Probers Sift Baker Aide's Testimony

Sold Insurance On Johnson, Gave Him Stereo Set, He Says

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senators investigating Robert G. Baker's activities left up in the air today whether they will pursue testimony of a Baker business associate who said he sold a life insurance policy on Lyndon B. Johnson and later gave him a stereo set.

Issued first in 1957 in the amount of $10,000 while Johnson was the Senate Democratic leader and increased to $200,000 in 1961 after Johnson became vice president, the policy was written by Don B. Reynolds, a local insurance agent.

Reynolds said his firm lists Baker, former secretary to the Senate Democratic majority, as vice president. Reynolds told the Senate Rules Committee that in 1959 after obtaining the insurance he gave a stereo set costing over $500 to Johnson at the suggestion of Baker, a former Johnson protegee.

He also testified he agreed to buy over $1,200 worth of advertising time on a radio-television station in Austin, Tex., owned by the LBJ Company, which is paying the insurance premiums. Mrs. Johnson recently placed her majority stock-holding in the LBJ Company in trust.

Reynolds testified that he regarded Baker, a former South Carolinian like himself, as someone who could provide him with access to important clients and had paid the former Senate aide about $15,000 for his help.

He said he had given Baker $4,000 for assisting him in obtaining a commission of about $10,000 in 1960 as broker for a performance bond required of Philadelphia contractor Matt McCloskey who built the District of Columbia Stadium.

McCloskey, who recently resigned as ambassador to Ireland, was treasurer of the Democratic National Committee at the time. He plans to handle Democratic campaign fund raising activities.

Reynolds testified he also paid $1,500 to William McLeod, chief clerk of the House District Committee, in connection with the same transaction. Informing that McLeod maintained the payment was for legal services in South Carolina, Reynolds said this was not so.

Reynolds' testimony, given at closed hearings Jan. 9 and Jan. 17, was made public by the committee Tuesday.

11 More File For Hancock Primary Vote

Clair W. Hobbs of New Cumberland R. D. 1, aspiring to a seat in the House of Delegates, headed a new group of 11 candidates in the field for Hancock County's primary May 12.

Hobbs, 37, an employee of Weirton Steel Co. for 15 years, filed as the fourth Democratic candidate for one of the two vacant seats in the House accorded Hancock County.

Filings of yesterday and today boosted the primary field to 66, including eight non-partisan candidates for the County Board of Education.

The Republicans, still lagging, have yet to enter a candidate for member of the House.

Hobbs is making his first venture into politics. He is a graduate of New Cumberland High School and a veteran of World War II. He is married and has three children.

The new candidate joined David L. Graham, Joseph A. Hill, Atty. Vito Catenaro and R. M. Warren, all of Weirton, in the race for the two seats in the House.

Wilmer Brown of Weirton filed as a Republican candidate for Butler District constable.

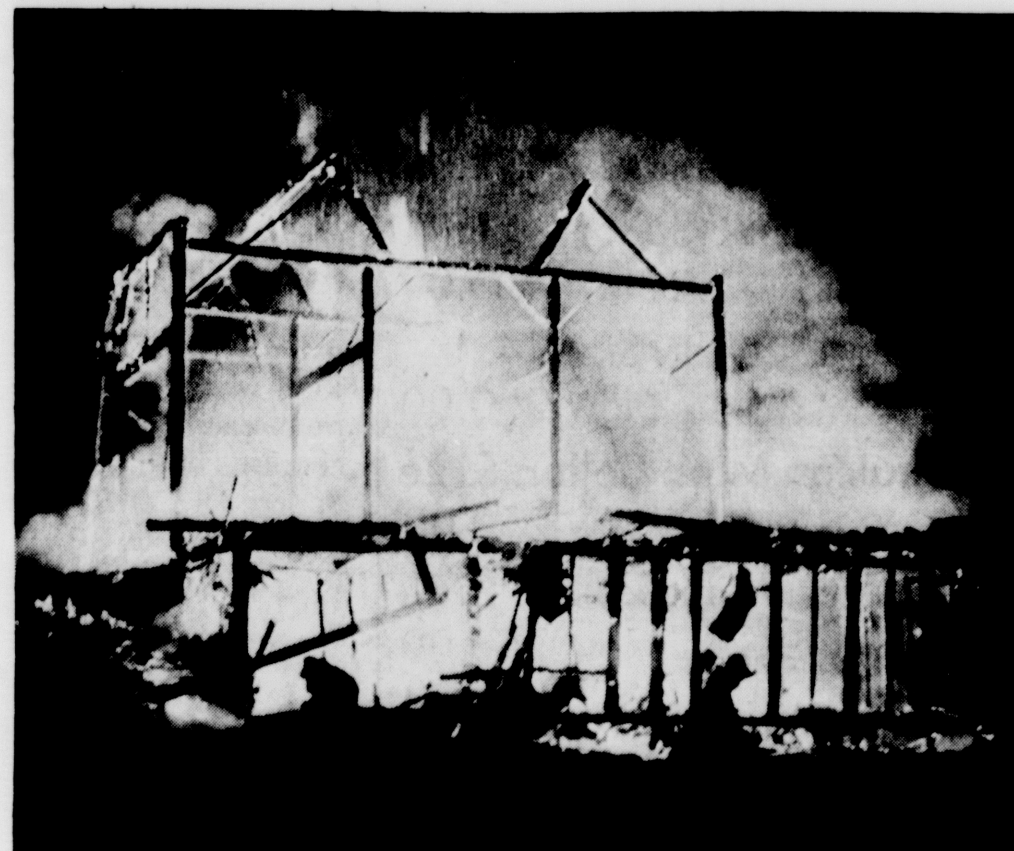

Nine others entered as candidates for member of the Executive Committees of the two primaries.

Donna M. Wright of Route 30, Chester filed for member of the Democratic Executive Committee from Grant District.

Filing for the Weirton ward posts on the County Democratic committee were David J. Jennings, Ralph Durante, Mrs. D. K. Beaver, Mrs. Frank Corso, Edward Boyer, Mrs. W. C. Lutes and Elizabeth Simbanin.

$5,000 Loss Estimated

20 Sheep Die In Barn Fire

Flames lick at burning timbers silhouetted against the glow of a fire which destroyed a large barn and stock owned by Thomas H. Porter of Bell School Rd. near Calcutta Tuesday night at 10.

The fire roared quickly out of control and the roof of the structure had caved in by the time Calcutta volunteer firemen arrived. The department received the alarm at 10:15, after a neighbor spotted the flames and notified the Porter family.

Firemen said the barn was leveled, the loss including 20 head of sheep, straw, machinery and building materials. Loss is expected to run about $5,000.

Calcutta firemen sprayed water on a utility pole near the burning barn, and also the side of an old brick dwelling which was the former home of the Hickman family.

Firemen also managed to pull a tractor at the side of the barn to safety, but one tire was damaged by the flames.

Volunteers remained on the job until after midnight to guard against sparks igniting the vacant home nearby.

Fourteen firemen responded to the alarm, with Chief Laverne Seckman in charge.

Calcutta residents from several miles away could see the red glare of the burning barn. The cause was not determined.

Porter is an employee of Crucible Steel Co. in Midland.

May Be March 4

St. Clair Project Bid Opening Set

The State Highway Department may be able to open contractors' bids on the St. Clair Ave. project March 4 if preliminary local paper work is completed by early February and no other snags develop in the long-sought improvement.

Engineer George S. Bloomgren and Solicitor Joseph W. Cooper are working with property owners along the affected stretch from Princeton Ave. to the city limits, obtaining so-called work agreements, where required, for things such as changes in the grade of driveways or installation of sewers.

THE HIGHWAY Department requires that all the work agreements must be completed and a certificate to that effect must be in its hands 10 days before it will begin publication of the legal advertisement for bids. The legal notice must be published over a three-week span.

In order to have the St. Clair project included in the March 4 contract - letting, the city must certify completion of the work agreements to the Highway Department 31 days before the date set for opening of bids.

Bloomgren said about a dozen of the work agreements have been signed so far. But at least that many more still must be obtained, he explained.

"WE ARE not having any trouble," the engineer said. "Everyone is co-operating and the job is going very well."

In such an instance, the work agreement permits the contractor to make changes in a property-owner's driveway to conform to the new level of the street. In the case of some sewer work, easements are required from owners of private property, he added.

If the preliminary paper work is not completed in time, the St. Clair job probably would be included in the Highway Department's next list of projects for bidding about March 18.

The job calls for a 36-foot reinforced concrete pavement and a complete storm sewer system. It has been sought for at least four years.

COST OF the project has been estimated by the Highway Department at $846,000.

Council passed enabling legislation for the project Dec. 20. Council's action followed a promise from county commissioners that they would provide up to $75,000 - if needed - to help pay the city's share.

At that time, the state said only that it would open bids "early next year," without specifying the month.

Charles Stoddard Named As Wellsville Councilman

A restaurant owner was named to Wellsville City Council Tuesday night to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Jerry Russell at the last meeting.

Appointed was Charles William Stoddard, 41, owner and operator of McGeehan's Restaurant. Russell was elected in November but later moved to Leetonia.

Stoddard will serve a full two-year term in the at-large post. He was defeated at the general election two years ago for a similar seat.

A REPUBLICAN, Stoddard was not present but was notified of his appointment and sworn in by Mayor William C. W. (BILL) STODDARD Chosen Among 6 Aspirants.

Police Salary Raise Asked At Wellsville

Chief's Report To Council Also Urges Expansion Of Staff

In a letter accompanying his annual report to City Council Tuesday night, Police Chief John Hephner of Wellsville requested salary increases for the department as well as consideration for increasing the manpower.

The chief asked that his salary be increased from $390 a month to $500, that of the captain from $370 to $450 and patrolmen from $357 to $400.

He said the requests are "being made in alignment with the high standard of efficiency shown by this department in recent years. I feel that this request is an honorable and just demand, and I strongly urge that the following salaries and benefits be adopted for this department."

The chief also requested the clothing allowance be raised from $75 to $100 a year and that hospitalization be paid for each officer by the city as this is now legal and "adopted by most communities."

Other requests were for overtime pay at the rate of $2.50 per hour, retroactive for a one-year period, and longevity pay at the rate of $10 per month for each five-year period of service.

The chief said the department should be increased to eight men in order that the city be given full protection the year around. At present there is a vacancy on the force, which should stand at seven men.

He also asked for four weeks vacation with 20 years service and for each additional year after 20 years, one extra day for each year.

The chief also asked Council to purchase a new cruiser, asserting it is badly needed.

This statement was attacked at the end in reference to the request for the enlargement of the department.

"A reliable test of the confidence of the public has in law enforcement in any community is the attitude of qualified young men toward seeking careers in its enforcement agencies."

"The failure or success of the law enforcement executive in meeting one of its most vital responsibilities, the recruitment and selection of top quality officers, hinges on the frank opinions of young men toward opportunities in our profession—honest and just compensation."

Broadcasts Of Satellite Due Today

Relay 2 In Orbit, May Be Joined By Another On Friday

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — A new U.S. communications satellite, Relay 2, circled the earth today and may be joined Friday by another, the giant Echo 2 balloon, as scientists seek the best space system for worldwide radio, television and telephone coverage.

Relay 2 shot into orbit from Cape Kennedy Tuesday atop a three-stage Delta rocket.

On the satellite's first orbit, radio communications and a television test pattern were beamed to it from Mojave, Calif. The satellite immediately transmitted the signals back to Mojave and to a station at Nutley, N.J.

First intercontinental television broadcasts via Relay 2 were scheduled today—an exchange of greetings between U.S. and Japanese government officials. President Johnson may speak on the U.S. segment.

Echo 2, successor to the spectacular Echo 1 balloon which orbited in 1960, is scheduled for launching from Vandenberg Air Force Base, Calif., Friday. It is to expand to a diameter of 135 feet in space, and the United States and Russia have agreed to try to bounce signals off its aluminum skin. It would be their first joint experiment in talking via satellite.

Relay 2, an active communications satellite, built by RCA, and Echo 2, which has no electronic parts and serves only as a reflector of signals, are different approaches in a U.S. effort to determine the most effective type of satellite for a global space communications system.

Most experts believe an eventual network will consist of three to six satellites similar to the Syncom 2 payload launched last year. Syncom satellites orbit 22,300 miles high, where their relative speeds match that of the earth and they appear to hover over one spot.

The higher altitude poses many technical problems, but most engineers are confident they can be overcome.

3 In City Family Hurt In Clinton Collision

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Mayers and daughter, Cathy, were released from City Hospital Tuesday night after treatment for injuries suffered when a Pennsylvania auto skidded into their car about 9:45 last night on Route 30 four miles west of Clinton. The family resides at 746 Mayberry Ln.

Mayers, 44, suffered contusions of the lower chest wall and abrasions of the elbow; his wife, Mary, 42, received a laceration of the lower lip, contusions and sprain of the right ankle and shock, and the daughter, 15, was treated for contusions and abrasions of the lower left leg and a possible back injury.

The Carnegie Barracks of the Pennsylvania State Police said the auto of Robert G. Butterfield, 16, of Georgetown R. D. 1 skidded on a curve into the path of the Mayers car.

What Is Love?

It Has Many, Many Meanings

This is the ninth of 10 articles condensed from the new book, "Ann Landers Talks to Teen-Agers About Sex," copyrighted, 1964, by Prentice-Hall, Inc.

By ANN LANDERS

What is love?

This is the $64 billion question, and as of now the jackpot is still unclaimed. Everyone wants to fall in love although no one knows for sure what it is he hopes to fall into.

Love is a favorite theme for poets, novelists and song writers. Its magic spell is supposed to be everywhere. Tons upon tons of literature have been written on the subject. Millions of people insist they've "been there" yet no one can define it.

Why, because love means something different to each of us.

THE WORD "LOVE" appears in every language known to man. But a careful study of the Bible and our historical heritage discloses a different employment of the word—it was applied to parents, grandparents, brothers, sisters, country and God.

The romantic notion of love—the "real gone" variety—is a relatively recent invention.

Some historians say it began in the Western world in the 12th century. Troubadors who roamed the countryside made up songs about "love." These songs had enormous appeal because they opened the door to a world of fantasy—a world where women were pursued, adored and desired by men.

This was a new idea. Today, six centuries later, every Tom, Dick and Harry, Sue, Lou and Mary hopes to be kicked in the head by that butterfly.

WE ARE TOLD that even though the 12th-century lady swooned at the sight of her shining knight she rarely married him.

Romantic palpitations were exciting but a quickening of the pulse was not considered a solid foundation for something as important as marriage. The fair ladies of medieval days married for practical reasons

West Virginia Sales Tax To Be Extended

Only Formality Of Senate Vote Today Needed For Okay

CHARLESTON (AP) — West Virginians will continue paying present retail sales tax rates another year after June 30, although the formality of final approval of the extension remained to be voted in the Senate today.

Up for final passage in the Senate was a pair of House-approved tax bills, requested by Gov. W. W. Barron, to prolong for one more year tax increases that have been scheduled to expire June 30.

One boost is from 2 to 3 per cent in the sales tax on sales over $1. The increase was first voted in 1961 as a seven-month expedient and already has been extended three times. The other increase is from 2 to 3 per cent in the use tax, a sales levy on out-of-state purchases.

Passage of the bills, which involve between $10 million and $12 million in expiring annual revenue, was a foregone conclusion. Democrats, who control the Senate 23-9, could lose some

Driver Flees Dresden Ave. Crash Scene

Cumberland Man's Auto Hits Another, Dives Into Ditch

Two charges were filed today in Municipal Court against a Hancock County man who allegedly fled this morning after his auto careened out of control on Dresden Ave., struck another car and then plunged into a ditch.

Robert K. Owens, 22, of New Cumberland R. D. 2 was charged with reckless driving and leaving the scene of an accident after the mishap at 12:24 a. m. on Dresden Ave. 580 feet north of Trentvale St.

Police said Owens' north-bound 1957 two-door sedan truck a 1955 four-door sedan driven by Lawrence D. Allison, 23, of Salem before lunging off the highway. No one was hurt.

Police said Owens fled the scene in another auto, but later was apprehended by Hancock County deputies and lodged in the Chester City Jail.

Allison told police he was driving north on Dresden Ave. about 25 miles an hour when

Spending Could Hit $20 Billion

Decision Looms In 1964 For Nike-X Anti-Missile

WASHINGTON (AP) — This may be the year of decision for the Nike-X antimissile system.

If President Johnson and Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara decide to permit production, it could mean spending ultimately as much as $20 billion.

Defense officials, discussing the new military budget, said "we are not far enough along on Nike-X to make any decision" for procurement or deployment of the antimissile system.

But, they said, "it is possible that decision can be made, pro or con, during calendar 1964."

Meanwhile, work on the Nike-X will go forward on a priority basis.

For this, the budget provides more than the $325 million allotted last year to start development of the Nike-X and to continue testing the companion Nike Zeus antimissile.

It was only a year ago that the late President John F. Kennedy approved the Nike-X project and the indications are that progress has been swift.

"We will get some test results in the course of calendar 1964," officials said.

Two Points Seen Having Best Chance

West And Neutral Delegates Certain Of High Interest

GENEVA (AP)—Western and neutral delegates at the 17-nation disarmament conference expressed confidence today that the Soviet Union is studying President Johnson's new arms control proposals with exceptional interest.

The President, in a message read at the conference's resumption Tuesday, proposed a verified freeze on the number and specifications of nuclear delivery systems—missiles, submarines, planes and the like—and a controlled cutoff in the production of nuclear materials for weapons.

Some delegates believed two less spectacular proposals by Johnson had better chances of a favorable Soviet reaction. These called for agreement to prevent the spread of nuclear weapons to nations that don't have them and a system of observation posts to prevent accidental war or surprise attack.

These in general coincided with two points proposed by Soviet delegate Semyon K. Tsarapkin as part of a seven-point program of negotiations, but agreement was not complete.

Johnson, for example, worded his proposal to ban the transfer of nuclear weapons so that it would not apply to the multilateral nuclear force proposed for the North Atlantic Alliance. Tsarapkin called for prevention of the spread of nuclear weapons to multilateral forces as well as to individual nations.

Johnson's proposals for the first time broke up the huge and complex package of general disarmament, long deadlocked in the two-year-old conference. A general disarmament treaty still is the ultimate goal, but the U.S. proposals are preliminary measures which might start the powers toward a comprehensive treaty.

The U.S. proposals also included a treaty to outlaw the use or threat of force and subversion, and a new effort to ban underground nuclear weapon tests, excluded from the limited test ban treaty.

President, Pearson To Sign Pacts

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson and Canada's Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson conclude two days of talks today with a show of harmony—the signing of two U.S.-Canadian pacts.

One is an agreement designed to carry out the aims of the Columbia River Treaty. That treaty, signed three years ago, called for U.S. and Canadian development of the vast river system which crosses the boundary in the Pacific Northwest.

Under the implementing agreement, to be signed at the White House, Canada is expected to get some $300 million for her share of downstream power to be developed in the United States and for U.S. food control benefits from Canadian reservoirs.

The second pact is an agreement for an international park at Campobello, The Canadian island summer home of President Franklin D. Roosevelt.

City's Fire Loss Totals $126,185

Although East Liverpool escaped any fatalities from fire in 1963, the city's fire loss climbed more than 300 per cent, primarily because of two business fires, Chief Charles Bryan informed City Council Monday night in his annual report.

Bryan's report showed the insured loss last year was $126,185 compared to $23,872 in 1962 when the loss was the lowest in six years. Last year's loss included $73,990 on buildings and $52,195 on the contents.

FIRES at the Coca-Cola Bottling Co. plant and Reese Jewelers in a two-week period last March accounted for $93,625 of the total loss, the chief said. The Coca-Cola firm's loss totaled $60,157 with the jewelry fire accounting for $33,468.

The breakdown on the two fires showed $38,900 loss on the bottling firm building on Weber Way and $21,257 to the contents. The Reese fire caused $9,100 damage to the building and $24,368 to the contents, the chief's records show.

Four other fires accounted for another $19,200 in the total insured loss, the chief said, leaving only $13,360 in loss from all other fires.

THE FOUR fires and the total insured loss were: Mrs. William Ferrall of Garner Ave., $6,500; East Ohio Supply Co. on the River Rd., $3,500; Trainer building at St. Clair Ave. and Welch Alley, $5,000, and Louis Provost property on Hazel St., $4,200.

Bryan explained the fire loss does not include any estimates on uninsured property or contents.

The department responded to 351 alarms last year, 97 more than in 1962. Of the total, 283 were received by phone, 36 from the police department, 23 verbally and three each from fire alarm boxes, sprinkler systems and radio.

PLAGUED by grass fires in the fall after a long drought, firemen answered 62 alarms in October, far ahead of the 35 in April and the 32 alarms received in January and March. November once again was the lowest month with only 15 being answered.

Other monthly totals were February, 19; May, 28; June, 24; July, 24; August, 27; September, 25, and December, 28.

Eighty-three fires originated in dwellings, 71 were grass blazes and 68 were in autos. Ten alarms were to automatic laundries and five false alarms were received. There were 21 resuscitator calls during the year.

CIGARETTES were blamed for 30 fires, backfires in carburetors for 25 and 51 causes were undetermined. There were 40 miscellaneous calls in which there was no fire.

The other causes were short circuits in wiring, 16; overheated electric motors, 14, and incendiaryism, 10.

The department made 150 inspections, flushed hydrants 41 times, was called 22 times to flush gasoline and 17 calls were to help locked-out residents into their homes. Other non-fire duties included painting and installing ropes on flagpoles, wetting down football fields, checking Patterson Field lights, trash complaints, smoke investigations and water leaks.

Cardinal Dies; Pope Paul Might Call Consistory

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The death of another Roman Catholic cardinal increased anticipation today that Pope Paul VI soon will call a consistory to replenish the Sacred College.

There also was speculation that the pontiff would make most of his choices from outside Italy, in line with his manifest desire to give the church's leadership a more international character.

Carlo Cardinal Chiarlo, 82, Italian member of the Vatican Curia, died Tuesday night of an intestinal tumor at Lucca, his family home. He had been ill more than seven months.

Cardinal Chiarlo's death reduced the College of Cardinals to 78 members.

Vatican sources believe the next consistory might elevate 22 men, bringing the College of Cardinals to an even 100 for the first time.

2 Men Buried Alive In Excavation Cave-In

WILLOUGHBY, Ohio (AP) — The side of a 20-foot-deep sewer excavation collapsed Tuesday and buried two workers alive.

Killed were Henry Johnson, 56, of Cleveland and Donald Kwielecki, 39, of Strongsville.

A third man, John Blashko, managed to scramble to safety as the wall of the three-foot-wide excavation caved in.

Fellow employees tried without success to rescue Johnson and Kwielecki. It took two hours of digging to get the two bodies out.

Youth Listed Missing Turns Up In Indiana

James Lee Pilutti, 16, of Irondale, who had been listed as missing since late Saturday night, walked into a police station in Indianapolis Monday night safe and unharmed and phoned his parents of his whereabouts.

His father, Aldo Pilutti, and a teacher at Stanton Local High School, Ray Lautzenheiser, drove to Indiana to return the youth.

Area authorities had been alerted to look for the youngster, who had been driving the family car.

Israel's Eban Named To UN Advisory Unit

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Despite outspoken opposition from Algeria and Iraq, Israel's Abba Eban was named to a U.N. advisory committee Tuesday.

Eban became one of 18 members of a committee to advise the Economic and Social Council on the application of science and technology to development.

Poll Shows De Gaulle Popularity Increases

PARIS (AP) — A poll shows President Charles de Gaulle's popularity on the upswing.

The latest survey of the French Public Opinion Institute showed 56 per cent of the persons queried said they were "satisfied" with De Gaulle as against 51 per cent at the end of November.

Young Driver Blames Ice In 4th St. Crash

Firemen Hold Aid Practice

A 16-year-old driver blamed icy pavement for a crash that damaged two autos on E. 4th St. early Tuesday afternoon, police reported.

The mishap at 12:33 in front of the high school involved a 1963 two-door sedan driven by Ronald H. Tullis, 2028 Michigan Ave., and a halted 1961 four-door sedan operated by Dale Keddie, 45, of 829 Orchard Grove Ave., officers said.

Keddie told police he had halted to allow his daughter to alight from his car at the school. Tullis said he was headed west about 20 miles an hour when the rear of his car slid on ice and hit Keddie's auto.

There was damage to the left rear fender of the Tullis car, owned by Howard A. Tullis, also of 2028 Michigan Ave. and the front bumper of Keddie's auto.

Patrolman William A. Devon, who investigated, commented in the accident report that the "street was in very poor condition."

Three autos were damaged in another mishap Tuesday at 9 a. m. on Pennsylvania Ave. at Virginia Ave., police said.

The crash involved a 1958 auto driven by Frederick Kelly, 28, of Industry R. D. 1; a 1959 two-door sedan driven by Mrs. Cuma Havens, 41, of 813 Price St., and a 1963 auto operated by John DiCiccio, 45, of 1207 Clover St., Wellsville, officers said.

DiCiccio said he was halted for a traffic light at the intersection "but the other two cars did not stop." All three vehicles were headed west, officers said.

There was damage to a front fender, the radiator and the rear light of the Kelly vehicle; the left headlight of the Havens auto and the rear bumper, tail light and gas tank of DiCiccio's car, police said.

Donald C. Hall, 38, of Georgetown R. D. 1 told police his 1962 two-door sedan was damaged in a hit-skip collision Tuesday at 11:32 p. m. on Pennsylvania Ave. at E. 4th St.

Hall gave police a description of the offending car, which he said fled on E. 4th St. Hall told police he was driving east when the unidentified auto hit his car from the rear.

A collision at 6:20 a. m. Tuesday at Pennsylvania and Oakland Aves. damaged a 1960 model station wagon driven by John F. Kelly, 40, of 1029 Vine St. and a 1961 model pickup truck driven by Harry Skeeles, 62, of 301 Harrison St., Newell, police said.

Kelly told police the truck pulled from the curb and struck his car. Skeeles told officers his foot slipped off the brake.

Firemen Hold Aid Practice

Paul Knox conducted an hour's class in first aid practices when Calcutta volunteer firemen met Monday night, with 18 attending at the fire hall.

A member of the department, Knox explained artificial respiration, the five-man blanket carry, and placement of injured persons on a blanket for shock treatment. Firemen then practiced each subject.

Chief Laverne Seckman, in his annual activities report, said the department responded to 39 calls during the year.

Thirteen were for grass and woods fires during the drought. The report also showed seven alarms for house and business establishments, two for home garages, seven for grass, three for chimney, three for autos and flour listed as miscellaneous. Firemen devoted 1,772 hours to fighting fires.

Dale Horgert, president, presided. Get-well cards were signed for Ed Snyder of Calcutta, a patient in City Hospital, and Chief Robert Lewis of Wellsville, recuperating at home from back injuries received in a sledging accident.

The annual carnival was set for Aug. 17-22, with Heck's Amusements to furnish rides. The carnival will be at the grounds near the fire hall.

Next meeting will be Monday night.

We Shall Wait And See

The Kennedy-Johnson budget, which could have gone over $100 billion, has been kept under $98 billion. Is everybody happy?

This is like the classic crack about feeling good when no longer being hit on the head with a hammer—not that a nearly $98 billion budget is surplus from pain but because it isn't as high as it might have been. President Johnson has trimmed it.

We shall wait and see how President Johnson makes out in the long run with his turn-around policy on spending. But in the meantime we give him credit for trying.

Even more than credit for trying, we give President Johnson credit for understanding why his trying is worth the effort. The credit of the United States is in peril.

Our government needs to make a heroic effort to prove to its creditors, including Americans who buy government securities, that it can repay them in dollars of comparable value.

The first move in such an effort must be proof that the government can control its spending. It must do what any creditor must do when his credit gets shaky. It must demonstrate a sense and a state of responsibility.

OUR DOUBTS about the Johnson administration's ability to do this are not limited to one administration.

They extend to all administrations. Doubts have been growing for many years, starting with the welfare state era that dates back to the first New Deal.

The question is whether this administration or any administration that encourages people to look to it for all kinds of assistance can balance a budget.

This is not a matter of money. It is a matter of intention.

For instance, there is no limit to the federal government's ability to collect more taxes than it is collecting now. The proposed tax cut that began under President Kennedy and is being pushed by President Johnson is not because of the economy's inability to pay.

It is, rather, a stunt to spur the economy to even greater speeds by giving people the illusion of a rebate on revenue payments already past due. The intention is to use the federal taxing power for a psychological lift.

THIS TYPE of intention has become so deep-rooted we doubt if President Johnson can do anything about it. We think he should, but we're not sure he can change the nature of the welfare state. We're not sure he wants to. We suspect he is a welfare-stater at heart.

The first year the United States spent more than $1 billion was 1917. When World War I was over, the U.S. spending leveled off at about $3 billion. When World War II began in 1940, federal spending had just reached $5 billion.

In 23 years, federal spending had multiplied five times while the population had gone from about 92 million to a little more than 131 million—only 70 per cent.

Today, with a population that has gone past 180 million—another 70-odd per cent increase—federal spending has zoomed from a pre-World War II level of $5 billion to a peacetime level of upward of $100 billion—20 times greater.

This is the welfare state. This is the way it works. Ask what the government can do for you, then get the limit.

No government that grabs this bear by the tail ever can come down to earth again.

PRESIDENT JOHNSON says he will tackle it, but so did Presidents Eisenhower, Truman, Roosevelt and Hoover. It was during the Hoover administration that the federal budget first began to get out of hand.

It never has been in hand since. Nor has the federal debt, now well over $300 billion, compared with a debt of less than $2 billion before World War I and of only $250 billion when the profligate spending of World War II finally ended.

Toward Efficiency

No one can quarrel with the suggestions of two Democratic councilmen to take steps for increased economy and efficiency in municipal government. We're all for it, not just now but at any time.

Changes should not be made too hastily, however. The committee which has been instructed to study the proposed suggestions should take its time and give the matter thorough consideration.

And in any such changes the city's overall good should be placed ahead of any personal or political feelings that might have a tendency to creep into the picture.

A Wide-Open Ohio Primary

Ohio's primary is still wide open as far as the state's Democrats are concerned. The surprise candidacy of John Glenn for their party's senatorial nomination kept it that way.

Their party had thought of closing it part way after the embarrassment of 1962 when a Cleveland Democrat named Richard D. Kennedy won the nomination for representative to Congress at large in a field of 10 candidates, then lost to Robert Taft Jr. in the election.

It was obvious in both the primary and the election that the Kennedy name had attracted the votes of unthinking Ohioans who had neither knowledge nor curiosity about the candidate behind the name. Mr. Kennedy it turned out, had gone on record as a segregationist. Democrats were embarrassed.

This was the motive for going back part way to the old-time convention system that gave the party some say-so about its candidates.

Col. Glenn's candidacy stopped the say-so movement. Most Democratic delegates liked the idea of having the country's first earth-orbiting U.S. astronaut on their team, despite the fact Democratic Sen.

Stephen M. Young belatedly had decided he wanted to run again and had sewed up an endorsement.

Delegates could not repudiate Sen. Young in favor of Col. Glenn, but neither could they endorse the senator at the expense of the astronaut. So they skipped the whole thing and left the party primary open; i.e., with voters in charge, instead of the hierarchy.

It couldn't very well have been any other way. In 1964, it isn't likely to be any other way under any circumstances. Candidates these days are more likely to be accredited by public opinion polls than conventions.

Get Together

Class reunions are becoming the rule rather than the exception among graduates of East Liverpool High School. This togetherness is a good thing.

Too often in our routine lives we forget many of the friends whose company we enjoyed so much in the past. Class reunions are a wonderful way to renew old acquaintances.

Executive Group

Theodore C. Sorenson isn't running for office; says he never will. So what?

So he is the bright young man whose nimble and inspired pen gave the late President Kennedy some of his best ideas and expressions. His decision last week to leave the White House marked the end of the Kennedy era.

Mr. Sorenson, himself, was the Kennedy era. The mark of his mind, the glitter and sheen of his intellectualism lie on every proposal and accomplishment of the Kennedy administration.

People knowledgeable about such things say the impact of the Sorenson intellect was even more far-reaching than that. They say he shaped the views of John F. Kennedy to such an extent he became presidential timber; that he otherwise would have been dead-ended in the blind alleys of Massachusetts politics.

WE SHOULD TAKE careful note of this, because it reveals something more momentous about the presidency of the United States than anything taught in courses about public administration.

The United States used to have individual presidents — men who presided over the government structure from the pinnacle of politics.

The United States now has an executive group in which the president of the country is one member, like a presiding officer. More and more in recent years, the executive group is dominated by one man who is not an elected official — Harry Hopkins during the Roosevelt years, John W. Snyder in the Truman years, Sherman Adams and George M. Humphrey during the Eisenhower administration and Theodore C. Sorenson for President Kennedy.

But particularly Ted Sorenson.

He was the alter ego of the man he served. He conceived many of the most stirring thoughts and reduced them to memorable words. His loyalty was never questioned. He was not in the White House and had not been in the pre-White House Kennedy entourage as a representative of someone else's point of view — only as a free intellect manifesting itself through the magnifying lens of a public figure to whom he was devoted.

THIS IS not to say that John Kennedy's mind was inferior to the Sorenson mind, but to say that the two minds complemented each other; they worked alike. This magnified the impact of each one on public affairs.

The Sorenson mind now will be used to produce a book about the Kennedy administration. The book also will be about its author's association with the leader of the Kennedy administration, and it assuredly will be about the thing that has been happening to the presidency — this executive grouping that has been changing the nature of executive leadership so radically no one understands yet what it may mean to the future of the United States.

This 'n That

Dr. Robert N. Goddard, father of American rocketry, invented and launched the world's first successful liquid-fueled rocket in 1926. It rose into the air 41 feet.

The two Books of the New Testament having the most chapters are the Gospel of Matthew and Acts of the Apostles, each with 28 chapters.

Rather An Awkward Position

New Evidence Aids Apalachin Probe

By Victor Riesel

I have returned to the scene of the crime convention—and some startling facts still unknown to the nation.

It was at the sprawling estate here of Joe Mario Barbara — replete with massive kitchens, walk-in deep freezes and a large fully equipped restaurant miles from any city—that Sgt. (now lieutenant) Ed Crosswell on Nov. 14, 1957 surprised the leaders of interlocking syndicates who were conducting a crime catel business meeting as though it were a gathering of insurance salesmen.

Until this moment the country has believed there were 64 top syndicate gangsters here—all identified.

Now it can be reported that there were between 100 and 120 master hoodlums and their retinues. This means that from 40 to 50 gangland leaders escaped, believing no one knew they were here.

THEY NOW CAN rest uneasy. The federal authorities now know who they are—and that they include the disdainful Chicago combine led by Sam Giancana who has tried to extend his domain to Canada and even London.

Some of the information has been obtained from the singing of Joe (Cago) Valachi now in the Washington, D. C., prison. But Valachi was not at Apalachin. He could only report what seeped down to him. Therefore the Justice Department's information must have come from those who were there.

It can thus be concluded that the Organized Crime Section of the Justice Department's Criminal Division has finally cracked the awesome barricade of silence which has protected the crime combines since the turn of the century.

Ever since 1957, the Justice Department and some crusading police chiefs have been able to keep the various mobs off balance. The underworld's second government has never been able to run another crime convention, as they did here, in Cleveland and on the Florida Keys.

DESPITE THE SIZE of the delegations to the Apalachin cookout, the authorities now believe that there is a "ruling" national "commission" of only nine men, perhaps 12 at the most.

This is far more than the Cosa Nostra operation described by Valachi. It is made up of men who are powers in their big cities or in regions of the country.

The turnout at Apalachin was big because the "commission" summoned the lesser crime chiefs without first telling them the agenda. So each hoodlum of any consequence brought with him his own technicians, "bookkeepers" and bodyguards.

The Justice Department now believes it has enough information to shift from the intelligence phase to grand jury action. It has collected vast amounts of data—some old, some Valachi's, some from informants who will forever remain unknown—on 1,100 criminal "executives" of organized crime syndicates.

The federal's target is the "commission," which it believes is made up of the following personnel: Sam Giancana, Chicago boss; Steve Maggadino of Lewisville, N.Y., a power in the big state; Joe Zerilli, a Detroit strong man; Vito Genovese, whom Valachi named as the Cosa Nostra chief; Joe Bonanno, of New York and Arizona; Tommy (Three Fingers Brown) Lucchese, behind the scenes "authoritative conciliator" living in New York.

THERE IS the mighty tough Carlo Gambino of Brooklyn; Angelo Bruno of Philadelphia, now under indictment; Raymond Patriarca of Providence, R.I. and John Sebastian LaRocca of Pittsburgh. Thus, the center of power of the big time syndicates appears based in the East. However, the two unknowns on the commission could represent the West.

Many of the "commission" members are in the labor rackets. According to a police official's testimony before the McClellan Committee recently: "If there is trouble in a union and they are looking for goons or strong arm people to move in, Patriarca . . . would supply them."

Patriarca, of course, is New England-based. There is no insinuation that the rule of the "commission" is absolute, or that it dominates all syndicate investments and rackets.

There are the 1,100 thugs in the lesser echelons. These men have power, too. Since it may not be possible to get the "commission," the Justice Department will move this year against the lower depths.

The first such moves will be attempted "breakthroughs" in New York and Chicago. Next will come Philadelphia, Miami and Los Angeles. Then five or six other cities.

So watch for the raids and the courtroom dramas.

Turn Back The Clock

By David Lawrence

Colombia Could Claim Rights In Panama

When you start to turn the clock back, how far back do you go?

This is a question that the government of Panama might well examine. When it insists that the existing treaty, signed in 1903, granting the United States rights "in perpetuity" to the Canal Zone be revised because the Republic of Panama wants to regain its "moral and legal rights," the point can be raised as to whether the government of Colombia doesn't also have to be consulted.

Since the Panamanian government now has chosen to break off diplomatic relations with the United States, this means that the Washington government is no longer under obligation to recognize the sovereignty of Panama. It affords an opportunity for Colombia to put in its claim for the recovery of the Canal Zone, which it originally owned.

Few people may realize it, but not only the Canal Zone but all of Panama was once a part of Colombia. As far back as 1878, it granted a French company exclusive rights to construct a canal. The French projects failed again and again. Finally, on Jan. 22, 1903, the United States concluded a treaty with Colombia which provided for the acquisition by the United States of the Canal Zone area. The Senate ratified the treaty, rejected it.

Then, not long afterwards—on Nov. 3 of the same year—a revolution broke out in Colombia, and Panama declared itself independent.

THE UNITED STATES government within 72 hours granted diplomatic recognition. On Nov. 18, a treaty was signed with the new government, granting the United States "in perpetuity" the use of a zone five miles wide on either side of a future canal.

Colombia promptly revised its policy and pledged itself on Nov. 30 to ratify the treaty it had earlier that same year rejected. The United States declined. Colombia's grievance continued thereafter to cause ill feeling in Latin America, and in 1914 a treaty was signed by the United States granting $25 million compensation to Colombia, largely because of the work Colombia had already paid for on the canal. This treaty, however, was not ratified by the United States and Colombian Congress until 1921.

President Theodore Roosevelt's action in recognizing Panama, thus helping to bring about the secession of Panama from Colombia, became a campaign issue inside the United States in 1904. Mr. Roosevelt insisted that he was looking out solely for the interests of the United States, and said:

"If, without detriment to the interests of the people of Panama, it could again become a state under Colombia and desires to do so—why well and good."

MR. ROOSEVELT argued that he had been acting in strict compliance with the wishes of Congress and added:

"Had not Panama been promptly recognized, and the transit across the isthmus kept open, in accordance with our treaty rights and obligations, there would have ensued endless guerrilla warfare and possibly foreign complications; while all chance of building the canal would have been deferred, certainly for years, perhaps for a generation or more."

The history of Pan-American relations contains many a fuzzy chapter in connection with the creation of the Panama republic itself. Strictly speaking, there are no treaties "in perpetuity" anywhere in the world. Nations may abrogate treaties if they wish, and Panama could tear up the existing treaty if it desired to do so.

Colombia could intervene, too, and could readily point to the fact that it originally owned Panama and would probably still be in possession had it not been for the sudden diplomatic recognition by the United States accompanied, as it was, by the presence of U.S. Navy gunboats at the scene.

Naturally, there are people in the Republic of Panama who want to get back the land now known as the Canal Zone, but to stir up ambitions inside Panama is also to stir up ambitions outside of Panama.

The Panamanian ambassador to the United States says his government wants to carry the issue to the United Nations because the existing 1903 treaty is not only "obsolete" but "repugnant to international law."

YET IT MIGHT be argued rounding the formation of the Panamanian republic itself involved violations of international law. Strictly speaking, the United States was bound to wait longer than it did for the ratification of the 1903 treaty by the Colombian Senate.

But all such arguments on the basis of international law do not take into account the realistic facts of today. Panama is too small a country to live in isolation and needs the friendship and economic support of the United States. Malcontents within Panama are stirring up trouble. This can only lead to a revival of ambitions in Colombia to re-acquire Panama.

To go to the United Nations and to brush aside negotiations directly between the United States and Panama would be to offend the Washington government, which Panama, in the long run, cannot well afford to do.

Those who have stirred up violence and trouble in the Canal Zone will not cease their efforts as long as they have the acquiescence or encouragement of the Panamanian government itself.

The sooner the Republic of Panama gets down to quiet diplomatic negotiations with the United States, the quicker the whole problem will be resolved.

The Endless Circle

By James Marlow

The endless circle spins again. President Johnson has made disarmament proposals based on the hope the Soviet Union has changed its mind. But there's no reason to believe it has.

Johnson suggested Tuesday — in a message to the 18-nation disarmament conference which opened in Geneva — several moves for controlling nuclear weapons and cutting down their production.

There would have to be an inspection system to prevent cheating. This is what the United States has always insisted upon, before there could be an agreement. But the Soviet Union has always opposed an inspection system.

Last week Johnson said "we shall make new proposals" to the conference. Later he was quoted in a White House statement as saying "as the United States enters these negotiations . . . we harbor no illusions of easy success."

His proposals Tuesday were not basically new. Even his opening sentence had a familiar sound, the kind of thing the United States and the Soviet Union have been saying for years: "There is only one item on the agenda of this conference — it is the leading item on the agenda — and that one item is peace."

The Soviet Union said several years ago in a memorandum on disarmament: "There is no task more vital and urgent today than the task of preserving peace."

The White House had hardly announced Johnson's proposals

Wellsville's Water Supply Holding Own

Wellsville's water problem has not worsened since an emergency was declared over a week ago, Mayor William Daugherty reported to City Council Tuesday night. Councilman Aguin Bowling, water chairman, requested that Council be brought up to date on the latest developments.

The mayor said that the water consumption in the city has dropped since the emergency was declared.

If anything, the water level probably is just a little better than it was when it reached the critical stage, he said. This is primarily because of the pumping operations which went into effect and the conservation procedures set up, especially by large consumers.

The mayor pointed out it is costing money to maintain the flow of water from temporary sources, while large consumers are cutting their usage, which is costing the city revenue. "The city is losing money on both ends," he commented.

The business and industries are making every effort to conserve, the mayor said, pointing out he had talked Tuesday with William T. Pomeroy, president, and E. K. Koos, executive vice president, of Sterling China Co.,

who reported on a process for recirculating some water.

There are a couple of other sources of water available, he said. When questioned, the mayor said a check is being made to determine if some of the sources cannot be pumped into the reservoir instead of pumped. He said Perry Mason, an engineer with the H. K. Porter Co., is working on this with the city.

Because of the long drought the past year, the reservoir is at the lowest point in its history.

'Boost East Liverpool,' Mayor Urges In Talk

Not everyone sees East Liverpool's attractions readily or in the same light, so her residents must act as salesmen to promote the scenic views, potteries and beautiful stretch of Ohio River here, Mayor Merrill D. Hall told the Rotary Club Tuesday.

In his first formal speaking engagement since moving into City Hall Jan. 1, Hall, speaking at the club's noon luncheon meeting in the Travelers Hotel, left little doubt that he will do all possible to promote East Liverpool's good points in an effort to attract tourists.

"I think we have a job in East Liverpool — to sell our town — and we do have something to sell," the mayor declared.

He asked that residents look at the city in a different light for a change — perhaps as an

Political Club Seats Halpate

A slate of new officers, headed by Rudy Halpate as president, was installed at a meeting of the East Liverpool Democratic Club Tuesday night at the Travelers Hotel. Seventy-five attended.

The installation was conducted by Donald Hancock, retiring president, in the absence of Don Gosney of Columbiana, county chairman. Gosney sent regrets and explained he could not attend because he was working in the interests of John H. Glenn Jr. as a Democratic candidate for nomination for U.S. senator.

Other new officers are: Frank Duffy, vice president; James Cunningham, treasurer, and Lawrence Applegate, secretary. Trustees are: Norman Bucher, three years; Sanders Firestone and Leo Payne, two years, and Joseph Burcham and Frank Bennett, one year.

Mrs. Iris Applegate, county chairwoman, presented a charter to the club. A committee was named to seek a permanent headquarters for the club. It is comprised of Joseph Winters, Bucher and Hancock.

Robert Owen, a candidate for county commissioner, was introduced and spoke briefly. All Democratic members of Council also were introduced. They discussed the future of East Liverpool and urged all members of the club to attend Council meetings.

Also introduced were Lewis Sowers and David Wymer, both of Lisbon. Sowers is president of the Lisbon Democratic Club. Refreshments were served. Next meeting will be Feb. 18 at the hotel.

False Report Costs Beaver Autoist $250

A Beaver County man was fined $250 and costs today in Municipal Court when he pleaded guilty before Judge Samuel M. Chertoff to a charge he filed a false auto theft report with East Liverpool police Friday night.

Patrick A. Lomagro, 42, of Beaver R. D. 2 was charged with "knowingly giving a false report to the East Liverpool police department, to wit: reporting his car had been stolen, when he well knew that it had not been stolen."

Lt. Charles E. (Bill) Tice said Lomagro came to the police station at 9:25 p. m. Friday and told officers his auto had been stolen from a parking place in East Liverpool. He remained at the station while police hunted the car, but admitted about 90 minutes later that he had loaned the car, Lt. Tice said.

City officers were advised by the Hancock County sheriff's office that the car had been found at Reservoir Rd. and 1st St. in Newell.

Lomagro paid the fine promptly this morning and was released.

Lt. Tice said Lomagro has admitted that he loaned the auto to a "girl friend," a married local woman who is the mother of five. He said Lomagro filed the theft report when the woman did not return the car, as promised.

Lomagro's arraignment Monday was handled as in a felony case. But the judge advised the defendant today a recent revision of the statute makes such a case a misdemeanor, giving the local court final jurisdiction.

In the case of a felony, the local court would have determined only whether the defendant should be held to the Grand Jury.

2 Killed, 2 Hurt In Pike Accident

FREMONT, Ohio (AP)—Two Michigan persons were killed and two others hospitalized today after the car in which they were riding slammed into the rear of a truck that had stopped on the Ohio Turnpike for another traffic mishap.

Turnpike Patrolman E. W. Dailey said a car bearing five members of the Smith family of Ypsilanti, Mich., smashed into the parked truck as he was flagging down traffic while a tractor-trailer was being pulled out of a ditch.

Killed in the smashup on the toll road 10 miles east of the Fremont-Port Clinton exit were George Smith, 21, the driver, a passenger, Samuel L. Smith, 59.

Admitted to Fremont Memorial Hospital were Thelma Smith, 55, who received a broken shoulder, head and possible internal injuries, and Virginia Smith, 19. The girl suffered a fractured skull and possible internal injuries.

David Smith, 14, escaped without injury.

$200,000 Loss Seen In Fire Near Dayton

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—A roaring general-alarm fire destroyed four stores of the Page Manor shopping center near Wright-Patterson Air Force Base early today.

No injuries were reported. Unofficial estimates put the damage at $200,000.

Observers said Levitt's Cocktail Lounge, the Manor Clothes Store, Jim Miller's Page Manor Furniture and the vacant Holiday House toy store were reduced to rubble.

Duties Aired For Chester School Guard

Clarification of duties of police and school guards at the 6th St. crossing in Chester was discussed at brief meeting of Council Tuesday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Wright of Louisiana Ave. were recently hired as guards for the crossing, which parents and school officials had described as hazardous due to heavy Carolina Ave. traffic.

Council last night agreed the police officers should be on duty in the crossing area as much as possible.

Mayor Harry Abrams reported on a visit made by him and councilmen to the Elementary Parent-Teacher Association at which the PTA contributed $100 for salaries for the two guards.

Council also authorized funds for the guards at the earlier meeting.

In other action, Council commended the water department and street department employees for removal of snow following last week's storm.

Bills paid amounted to $811. Clerk Roy Cashdollar reported remittances totaled $651.

Cashdollar, reporting on the water department in the absence of Councilman Wayne Hutton, said the department's balance is $5,083 — the highest in several years.

The meeting lasted 23 minutes. Councilman Carl Graham was also absent.

The next meeting will be Feb. 4.

'Love' Means Many Things

and enjoyed their romantic affairs in secret.

In some cultures romance was (and still is) considered a fringe benefit which may or may not come after marriage. The parents arranged for the betrothals of their sons and daughters. The bride and groom often met for the first time at their wedding ceremony.

Anthropologists tell us that those marriages frequently turned out well, crediting the similarity of religious, social and financial backgrounds, plus the foregone conclusion that marriage was "forever."

Moon-June-Croon

Experts in the field of marriage counseling agree that the well-advertised moon-june-croon type of love has produced more miserable marriages than happy ones.

Young people (and older ones as well), who are in love with love, marry too soon, and for the wrong reasons. They are swept along by free-flowing juices—unwilling to give the relationship a chance to flower and bloom.

Teen-agers who have a healthy attitude toward sex will not rush to the altar for physical reasons. They are able to put sex in its proper place. And they know its proper place is NOT at the top of the list in blazing neon lights.

SOME TEENS make the mistake of believing that being informed or knowing "the facts of life" will assure them of complete sexual compatibility in marriage. In the words of the song, "It ain't necessarily so."

Sound information is vital, but all around us we see evidence that it isn't what we know about sex but how we feel about it that counts. Knowledge, and the ability to apply that knowledge to our own lives, are vastly different things.

Many physicians, nurses, anatomists and biologists, who should know most of what there is to know about the human body and how it functions have unsatisfactory sex lives. On the other hand, an even greater number of ordinary, everyday people who have no clinical information whatever, enjoy an enormously satisfying sex life.

SEX ATTITUDES are largely shaped in childhood. Parents who have a wholesome approach to sex are aware that a good physical relationship will glorify and strengthen their love. They pass on these healthy attitudes to their children.

It need not necessarily be articulated. An atmosphere of harmony and unit warms the home.

The opposite is also true. Couples who are poorly adjusted sexually sometimes are ashamed to admit to themselves that they have such a problem. They bicker and quarrel over other things.

She criticizes him in front of the children because he slurps his soup and leaves his socks and shoes in the living room. He finds fault with her relatives and complains that she is extravagant and spends "his" money recklessly.

THE ENTIRE FAMILY suffers in any number of subtle (or not so subtle) ways.

Children who are reared in homes where anxiety and hostility are part of their daily lives often bring to their own marriages the same destructive qualities.

A recent study on divorce suggested that the child of divorced parents is three times as likely to have a divorce of his own as the child whose home remains whole.

In The Family

Some children grow up in families where sex never is mentioned. These children get the idea there must be something drastically wrong with physical love.

An inhibited or self-conscious parent who is unable to discuss sex or even answer a child's questions, is himself so emotionally crippled that his child must look elsewhere for guidance and counsel.

I'VE RECEIVED letters from teen-agers whose parents have talked to them about sex—and with shattering results.

Mothers who fear and despise sex make certain their daughters are warned adequately against this "monstrous evil."

Here are a few samples from my mail:

Lexington, Ky.:

"My mother says all men are animals and they are after only one thing. I have dated some very nice fellows and I can't imagine any of them acting like animals."

"My mother says they pretend to be decent and polite at first, but it's only an act. When they get girls to fall for them they turn into beasts."

"I've read novels about love and marriage and it all sounds so heavenly. My mother says it's a lie. She says sex is only enjoyable for men. Women just have to put up with it."

BOYS UNBURDEN themselves, too. Here is a letter from Boston:

"I am 15 and an honor student. My father took me aside last night and asked me if I had made a girl, yet. I told him no. He said when he was my age he had been around plenty and he hoped there wasn't anything wrong with me."

"He ordered me to get my nose out of the books and go out and learn what life is all about. Maybe there is something wrong with me. I have no desire to make a girl. In fact the thought of it sort of scares me."

Where do parents get such twisted notions?

If sex never is mentioned in your home—or, worse yet, if your parents have told you that sex is vulgar, disgusting or sinful—I urge you to retool your thinking.

NEXT: The big payoff.

votes to the Republican opposition and still have a safe margin.

Yesterday the Senate rejected 20-11 an amendment by Minority Leader John E. Carrigan, R-Marshall, to remove the sales tax entirely from groceries and prescribed drugs. Nineteen Democrats and one Republican voted against the amendment, three Democrats and eight Republicans for it.

Final enactment of two other bills which have passed both houses in slightly different forms was expected to come in the House today when they arrived for action on minor Senate amendments.

These are bills authorizing West Virginia participation in the Southern Interstate Nuclear Compact and providing machinery for putting a $200-million road bond issue on the November election ballot this year. The 1963 Legislature voted to hold the bond issue referendum. The Senate passed the bills yesterday by votes of 29-2 on the nuclear compact and 30-1 on the road bond measure.

Man Injured As Rigs Spill On Icy Road

A Sewickley man was injured in one of two similar traffic mishaps on Route 14 near Unity early today, each involving a semi-trailer truck skidding on ice and overturning.

The Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon said Lawrence Morray, 49, of Sewickley was a passenger in a rig operated by Emery Kosier, 37, of Mentone, Ind., which skidded on ice about 2:15 a. m.

The rig went off the right side of the road and overturned on its side, officers said. Morray was later treated at Bellevue (Pa.) Hospital for bruises and sprains of the arm.

About 2:15 a. m. near the same location, Edwin J. Banik, 32, of Pittsburgh lost control of his semi-trailer rig which went off the right side of the road and partially overturned, receiving about $800 damage.

Tavern Men's Hearings Set

LISBON — Hearings on a delinquency charge will be held Feb. 6 in Juvenile Court for the operators of the Tiger Inn east of Columbiana, where Sheriff Russell J. VanFossan and deputies seized three pinball machines allegedly used for gambling.

Charles Starr, 39, and Ludovic G. Nicholidis, 42, both of Youngstown, are the present operators, having taken over the truck stop and restaurant about six months ago when it was known as Turkey Inn.

Sheriff VanFossan said Prosecutor G. William Brokaw considered them gambling machines and were contraband and not property in the legal sense.

No charges were filed against the operators in connection with the machines as Sheriff VanFossan said he doesn't know who owns them.

Several area communities have large license fees for operation of this type of pinball machines but Brokaw advised that this does not exempt them or their owners from confiscation of the machines if they are ruled gambling machines under the law.

Both Starr and Nicholidis are presently out on $2,000 bond from Juvenile Court for contributing to the delinquency of a 17-year-old Columbiana R. D. girl, who allegedly stayed at the inn during the heavy snow the weekend of Jan. 12 and hearings will be held before Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin. Four other men are slated to appear on similar charges involving the same girl, authorities said.

Stoddard Gets Council Post At Wellsville

Daugherty when he arrived later.

A resident of 1014 Center St. he is a member of the Wellsville Elks Lodge and the Trinity United Presbyterian Church at East Liverpool. He is married.

Council received a total of six applications for the seat. They were from George E. Grafton, 460 14th St., Mrs. Russell Dyser of Main St., Clifton Baughman of Broadway, Russell R. Keefe of Highland Ave., W. S. (Ted) Swearingen of Center St. and Stoddard.

After the applications were read, Council adjourned to the office of Mayor Daugherty to conduct a secret ballot. Harry L. Stewart, reporter for The Review, and Lloyd Rhodes of the Wellsville Press were invited to serve as judges and count the ballots.

Stoddard received the majority of votes on the first ballot and was declared duly elected.

MRS. MARY RAHTER, Council president, later invited Stoddard to check with her as to his committee preferences.

In other business, legislation was adopted naming the Wellsville Branch of the Potters Bank & Trust Co. as the depository for city funds for two years.

Councilmen Walter Henthorne and Nunzio Lombardozi were named as representatives to the Police Pension Board. Their terms will expire in September. They will fill the seats left vacant by former Councilmen Frank DeLongo and Robert Taggart.

Mrs. Rahter first appointed Lombardozi and Councilman Aguin Bowling. But, Bowling asked that someone else be named as he had served on the board previously.

A letter was received from A. C. Gloeckner, owner of the Yellow Cab Co. of East Liverpool, requesting a franchise to operate in Wellsville.

Gloeckner said his firm would provide 24-hour radio service for the city. The request was referred to the franchise committee for study.

WAYNE ROSE, clerk, was requested to invite a representative of the Television Cable Service, Inc., of Weirton to attend the next meeting Feb. 4. Council already has met with a representative of Telco of Lewistown, Pa., concerning television cable service for the city.

A representative of Charlie's Boat & Motor Sales of Salem requested a meeting with Council to discuss purchase of a parcel of city-owned land east of Little Yellow Creek.

The firm is constructing a houseboat and may move its operation to Wellsville if ground can be obtained. A boat dock will be set up on land already owned by the firm.

Mayor Daugherty said he had talked with the firm as had Solicitor William Bush.

COUNCIL set up a meeting next Tuesday at 7 p. m. Mayor Daugherty also is to meet to present a list of tentative plans for the coming years.

During committee reports, Councilman Paul Todd suggested that the city designate certain streets as sledding areas. This could prevent any further fatal accidents, he commented. He said the streets could be barricaded to traffic and parents could then tell their children to utilize the special areas. He also suggested that Central Park be used for community activities, proposing an area be flooded as a skating rink.

Todd, who is finance chairman, reported he will set up a meeting with Auditor Edgar Davidson in the near future to go over the entire program. He said the auditor is busy now clearing up yearend business.

Todd said he would notify each member of the date of the meeting.

LOMBARDOZI, property chairman, raised a question over legislation passed by the previous Council in regards to the leasing of land along the super-road east of Wells Hollow Rd.

A frozen meat locker firm supposedly was interested. The previous Council passed legislation Dec. 21 authorizing the Board of Control to advertise for bids.

Lombardozi and others questioned as to who could designate the restrictions, if any, to be placed on the property. Bush said that this was not contained in the legislation, any restrictions now would be up to the Board of Control.

Safety - Service Director Fred

Baldasare and Mayor Daugherty comprise the Board of Control.

HENTHORNE moved and Councilman Meryle Kenny seconded that legislation be brought in to repeal the original ordinance. They withdrew their motions after the mayor and director said they do not plan to advertise the land. Baldasare said he has been told the man originally interested doesn't want to pay the $75 minimum monthly rental.

Henthorne said he had received a request for a street light on Chester Ave. between 21st and 22nd Sts. This was referred to the finance committee.

He also said he had received reports of speeding on Buckeye Ave. It is particularly dangerous on two different rises, he said. He suggested mirrors be installed to allow motorists to see oncoming traffic better. The director will check.

COUNCIL adopted a set of rules of procedures to be followed. After the opening prayer and reading of the minutes, Council offers the floor to anyone wanting an audience. Required to give name and address, they then have three minutes to speak.

Reports are heard from city officials. Correspondence is read and any legislation acted on. Committee reports are heard and Council then adjourns.

This is a change from past procedures.

Mrs. Rahter gave the opening prayer.

Atty. Pike Given Party Backing In Vote Board Post

The Columbiana County Republican Executive Committee, meeting Tuesday night in party headquarters in Lisbon, voted unanimously to recommend the name of Atty. Charles A. Pike of Lisbon to Secretary of State Ted W. Brown for a second term on the County Election Board.

The new term will begin March 1. Frank R. O'Hanlon, as secretary of the Executive Committee, will certify the attorney's name today to the secretary of state.

Pike is chairman of the executive and central committee. He surrendered the gavel to Ford McQuilkin of Homeworth, vice chairman, while the question of the Election Board recommendation was being discussed.

Several committee members made speeches in which they praised Pike for his party leadership as well as his service on the Election Board.

Arrangements were completed for a county GOP dinner Feb. 11 at Beaver Local High School at which the principal speaker will be Walter Judd, former Minnesota congressman and keynoter at the 1960 Republican National Convention. Plans also were discussed for the May 5 primary campaign.

Fire Kills 4 Children

WINNIPEG, Man. (AP)—Fire swept through the North Winnipeg home of Floyd Davis early today, killing four of his six small children. The other two children, their mother and an aunt were hospitalized.

Fire Causes $100 Damage

A spectacular fire in which gasoline-fed flames leaped 25 feet in the air only caused about $100 damage in Wellsville Tuesday at 12:15 p. m.

The blaze, which was attributed to an unusual chain of events, was at the Rosenberger Bottling Co., 206-212 Broadway, according to Asst. Fire Chief Robert Lloyd.

The gasoline was from an old underground storage tank alongside the building. The gasoline escaped and flowed down a gutter. It was touched off by a lighted cigarette tossed to the street.

Firemen said the tank was used several years ago to service delivery trucks of the firm. Later it was abandoned.

In the snow removal program the past few days, the filler pipe apparently was broken off. No one realized it and as the snow and ice thawed, the water ran into the tank.

This caused it to fill and forced out the old gasoline. The fuel ran down the gutter next to the building and into a drain near 2nd St.

Lloyd said when the gasoline ignited, the flames went all the way up the side of the brick building.

None of the fire was inside the building. An outside loading ramp and some steps leading to it were damaged. The heat broke a window and caused some damage to the sash.

The tank was plugged to prevent any further leakage. L. H. Rosenberger, 928 Main St., told firemen he would have the tank removed.

There was no explosion as the gasoline was in the open.

security of this nation's democratic ideals is crucial. The success of our profession attains in fulfilling this trust rests equally on the dedication and ability of every officer. We cannot afford to weaken our ranks with less than the best. Any compromise with this principle is a betrayal of our sworn duty."

The letter was referred to the finance committee for consideration. The annual traffic report shows there were no fatalities during 1963. A total of 195 accidents were recorded. Of these, 23 were injury accidents. Twelve involved fixed objects, two were off the roadway and 45 were moving accidents.

There were six accidents involving drunk drivers.

A total of 293 offenses were recorded. There was one case of aggravated assault, 7 burglaries or breaking and enterings, eight cases of larceny (excepting auto theft), 35 other assaults, one violation of liquor laws, 45 cases of drunkenness, 34 cases of disorderly conduct, two of vagrancy, 17 cases of driving while intoxicated, 64 violations of road and driving laws, 34 parking violations, 10 other traffic and motor vehicle laws and 32 miscellaneous offenses.

Five burglary cases and four larceny cases were cleared by arrests.

A total of 4,794 parking meter tickets were issued and the department collected $1,813 in parking meter fines.

A total of 37 juvenile cases were handled, which does not include neglect of traffic cases. Of these, 11 were handled with in the department and released (warnings, released to parents, etc.) while 26 others were referred to Juvenile Court or the probation department.

A grand total of 338 arrests were registered during the year. The monthly breakdown shows January, 16; February, 24; March, 32; April, 24; May, 30; June, 37; July, 39; August, 41; September, 24; October, 33; November, 25, and December, 13.

A total of 203 prisoners were kept at City Jail and meals during the year cost $660.

St. Clair

set the city's overall share of the project at $348,393. The legislation provides $203,630 will come out of general municipal funds and the remaining $144,763 will be raised by a $10-a-foot assessment against owners of abutting property.

WITHOUT THE promise of $75,000 from the county, the city's total share would have been $423,395, based on present estimates. Council said that figure was beyond the city's ability to pay.

The actual cost of the improvement will not be known until the state opens bids and accepts one of the offers. Contract prices generally run well below the state's estimates. In such a case, the city's share would be reduced correspondingly.

Mayor Merrill D. Hall said he will ask the contractor to dump fill dirt in a hollow on the east side of St. Clair Ave. adjoining Riverview Cemetery. That will provide a space for parking and picnic tables where visitors may enjoy a scenic view up the Ohio River valley, he said.

City Unit Hears Plan

Area Merger Proposed For Red Cross Chapters

A proposal to merge the city chapter with other nearby chapters into one Red Cross unit was reported at the first quarterly meeting of directors of the East Liverpool chapter Monday night at the Mary Patterson Memorial.

H. Judson English, chapter chairman, said the proposal was advanced by Jack Tipton, a Red Cross field representative, who asked that the executive committee meet with the leaders of other chapters involved to make a thorough study of the possibilities.

English introduced the new officers and directors who will serve three-year terms. They complete a membership of 40, of whom 25 attended the meeting. Committee chairmen will be announced later, English said.

Committee reports were given by Mrs. Marie Hays, chairman of the Grey Ladies, and Mrs. Eleanor Boice, director of home service. A report on first aid also was received.

Mrs. J. D. Thompson, volunteer chairman, reported an all-day meeting on disaster procedures will be held Feb. 4. Mrs. Hays was appointed chairman of a committee to reactivate recruitment of Red Cross blood donors for standby call.

The board accepted the donation of a used auto from a local resident and discussed the training of a motor corps for charter service.

English announced the annual Red-Cross convention will be held in New York City May 17-20 with one or more delegates appointed to represent the chapter.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Thompson, Miss Susan Graff and Mrs. Neil Shope.

Denmark ruled over England from 1016 to 1042.

Driver Fined $34 On 18 Old Parking Tags

An East End man was fined $27 and $7.50 costs Tuesday by Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff when he pleaded guilty to a charge he ignored 18 parking tickets issued during 1963—the second time in a year he has paid a big penalty for a stack of old citations.

Dean Beiling of 1st Ave. was haled into court on a "Meter Maid" affidavit alleging specifically that he ignored a ticket issued for overtime parking last Nov. 12. Attached to the affidavit were 17 more tickets which Beiling allegedly ignored.

Examining a police record, the judge commented that it showed Beiling was in court last year on a similar charge and paid $58 for another accumulation of tickets.

"You seem to have no respect for the law," the judge said.

Beiling denied a lack of respect. He said he was unaware the accumulation had grown so large.

Under a "bargain plan" announced by the judge last week, Beiling escaped with a penalty $17 less than usual. In the case of a driver haled into court on a warrant, the judge has set a temporary bargain rate of $1 for each ticket after the first. Ordinarily, he assessed a fine equivalent to $10 and costs on the first ticket and $2 for each additional citation.

But the "bargain" applies only until Feb. 1 and only to those motorists for whom affidavits have been issued.

Another driver was fined yesterday.

Marx F. Stone, 1722 Etruria St., was fined $5 and costs on a charge he crashed a traffic light at Pennsylvania and Oakland Aves. Monday at 9:46 p.m. Stone told the judge the street was "a sheet of ice" on the approach to the light.

Columbiana Schools Ask May 5 Levy Vote

The Board of Education of the Columbiana Exempted Village School District filed a resolution Tuesday with the County Election Board asking a vote at the May 5 primaries on a new 3-mill levy to provide funds for current expenses.

Only a majority vote will be required for approval, according to Frank R. O'Hanlon, Election Board clerk. The levy would be in effect five years.

O'Hanlon said two or three more special questions and issues are expected to be filed for the May ballot. Technically, when a special question or issue is voted upon in May, it is a special election held on the same date as the primary.

Pull Out Of Middle-Age Feeling

What is the worst thing about middle-age — the dreaded spread? Not on your life. It's the dreary middle-age feeling.

We cannot have a sense of well-being unless muscles are toned. With that extra fillip of fine feeling we have zest for work and, yes, for play.

Last February I met a middle-aged acquaintance whom I had not seen for over a year. I almost passed her by without recognizing her. She looked different, blooming with health and 15 years younger. What fountain of youth had she tapped? She explained:

"I USED TO go all winter without moving a muscle. Then one day I happened to glance in a long mirror when I had little on. I was appalled at the sagging sight of that dispirited woman. I promptly decided to take measures. I joined a gym and now I swim and exercise. There is no tonic to equal swimming. I feel marvelous," she beamed.

She looked marvelous, too. Actually, it was this encounter that sold me on the idea of joining a gym where I could swim during the winter months. Swimming is such all-round good exercise.

Exercise cannot be a sometime thing. It must be woven into our way of life. The big problem in modern living is how to keep physically fit, particularly in winter. We can't all fly off to a sunny clime. Not everyone can take rugged calisthenics, or long hikes. But almost everyone can swim. Even those with sub-normal strength or physical disabilities can exercise in the water. Buoyed up by the water, one can swim without straining any set of muscles.

SWIMMING is not only fun and slimming, it's curve building too. This exercise is a great normalizer, for it builds where we need building, and it changes bulges into shapely curves. As exercise, it is sheer magic. It helps to make fat legs slimmer and spindly legs sweetly rounded.

On the calorie score, swimming burns 10 to 12 calories per minute, depending on your weight. To be exact, use the figure of 3.02 calories per pound per hour. In a 20 minute swim you can easily burn 200 calories. And the beauty of it is that swimming gives all the muscles their rightful share of exercise.

If you can, join a gym and swim — regularly.

Penalties Added To Dog Licenses

LISBON — The staff in the dog warden's office in the Courthouse reported today they are working on license series 8,500 in issuing new 1964 licenses.

The deadline was Monday and from now on all licenses will carry a penalty of $1 per dog or $5 per kennel tag.

The clerks have about five large boxes of mail to open and process. The total of licenses is expected to be near the 12,000 sold up to this date last year.

Licenses cost $2 for a single dog or $10 for a kennel, plus the penalty.

Dog Warden Russell Reichenbach said that he and his assistant, Harold McCall of Rogers, soon will be checking files to locate persons who have not purchased a license this year, but had one last year. He said all persons found to be harboring a dog over three months which is without a license will be cited to a county court.

It was reported a new snow plow for the truck obtained last year was delivered last week. The township has two trucks and plows and a grader.

Bills were paid. Information about the blacktop program was given to Harry Morgan of Moore St.

McDevitt Seeking First Win Over Salem

There will be an interesting "personal duel" for the fans to observe at the Wells-ville High - Salem game Friday night.

The battle will bring together two of the area's most successful coaches, from the standpoint of won - loss records.

In seven years at the Wells-ville helm, Coach Jack McDevitt has compiled a record of 78-55.

Veteran Coach John Cabas of Salem shows a lifetime won-loss record of 344-107 in 24 years on the scholastic scene. At Salem for 14 years, Cabas has won 204, lost 76.

Quakers Invade Beacom Gym Friday

Yet in all of McDevitt's victories, not one has come against Cabas. Salem is the only team played regularly by Wellsville that McDevitt has never beaten.

Even last year, when Wells-ville had cut down seven straight opponents with one of its tallest squads ever, the streak ended at Salem, 79-64.

This year, Cabas brings one of his poorest teams to Beacom Memorial gym and McDevitt figures it's about time for an upset.

The Quakers have scored only one victory in 10 games, that one over Alliance, 80-54. In addition, there's not a single standout in the lineup as has been the case in the past.

Meanwhile, Wellsville has enjoyed only fair success itself, winning five of 10 games, the last two in a row. Pivot Terry Flesch, 6-3 senior, has been the most consistent scorer, with an average of 19.7 per game.

Flesch, who hit 31 and 36 points in two games over the weekend, will be the tallest player in either lineup.

He'll team with steady Dick Call, 5-11, and Pat Welch 5-11, at forwards; and Lester Bennett, 5-10, and Jeff MacLean, 5-8, at guards.

At the pivot for Salem will be Charles Joseph, 6-0. The guards are Wayne Washington and Rick Gregg, 5-10, and the forwards are George Be-galla, 5-10, and Jim Lantz, 6-0, sophomore.

Gregg and Washington are Salem's most consistent scorers.

Wellsville's last victory over Salem came in the 1945-46 season, 33-28. The squads did not play from 1949 through 1954. But since 1954, Salem has won each year.

The Tigers will also be in action Saturday night, hosting Springfield Local in a Buckeye Border Conference game.

The reserve games this weekend will start at 7.

Russell, Buntin Pace Wolverines Over Minnesota

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Cazzie Russell and Bill Buntin, the one-two punch for the Michigan Wolverines, are high up in college basketball's current All-America check list.

They demonstrated their ability again Tuesday night as the Wolverines whipped Minnesota 80-66 and took another step towards their first Big Ten championship in 16 years.

Russell threw in 25 points and Buntin added 23 as the Wolverines, second-ranked nationally in The Associated Press' poll, rolled to their fourth straight league triumph and 13th victory in 14 starts over-all.

The way they are going the Wolverines may finish with a perfect 14-0 mark in league play in contrast to their first year in Big Ten basketball, back in 1918, when they didn't win a league game. In fact their only defeat this campaign came at the hands of unbeaten UCLA, top-ranked in The AP poll.

Playing at home, Michigan was the only team in The AP's Top Ten to see action Tuesday as the mid-season exam lull continued.

In the few other major games, Purdue went two over-times to defeat Notre Dame at Fort Wayne, 112-103, Georgia Tech defeated Georgia 71-55 in a non-SEC conference game at Atlanta and Tennessee overwhelmed Ft. Knox 96-56 at Knoxville. On the Pacific Coast Dayton lost to Seattle 80-63.

Liston, Clay Eye Bundle In Feb. 25 Heavy Match

NEW YORK (AP) — Sonny Liston may have another short night's work Feb. 25 with Cassius Clay at Miami Beach, but the heavyweight champion figures to make a bundle.

Nate Halpern, the president of Theater Network Television, Inc., the company that will operate a closed circuit telecast of the title fight, said Tuesday he already had 1,000,000 seats available. It may hit 1,250,000 by fight time.

As Halpern figures the average price will be about $5, a sell-out in the theaters and arenas in between 250 and 300 locations would bring in something between $5 million and $6,250,000. The record is the $4 million estimated for the first Liston-Floyd Patterson fight in 1962.

The actual gate at Miami Beach could reach $1,200,000 if they sell all the tickets starting at a $250 top. Bill MacDonald, a Miami sportsman, has assured the fighters they will share in $625,000 by buying the live gate for that amount.

On the basis of 42½ per cent for Liston and 22½ per cent for Clay, a sellout on all sides could bring the champ a little more than $1 million and Cassius close to $650,000. As Sonny also participated in Intercontinental Promotions, Inc., the promoters, his share will be much higher in the final tally.

Twins Ponder What Position To Put Oliva

ST. PAUL-MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Pedro Oliva is causing consternation in the Minnesota Twins' baseball camp again.

Who? Try the name Tony Oliva and maybe it will ring a bell.

The Twins didn't even know his right name a year ago. They thought he was Tony, only to learn the 23-year-old Cuban had entered this country in 1961 using his brother's name to get a passport.

Now the Twins are wondering where to play Oliva, and it's a serious matter to Manager Sam Mele and President Cal Griffith.

Both agree he should be a regular with the Twins in 1964, and they agree on the position — the outfield. The agreement, however, on the consequent shuffle in Twins personnel which results when Oliva is inserted into the lineup.

Mele wants to shift Harmon Killebrew back to first base to make room for Oliva in the outfield. Griffith wants Bob Allison moved to first to make room for Oliva in the outfield. It will be resolved in spring training, provided, of course, Oliva's bat is as hot as usual.

"We've got to give Oliva a chance," Mele said Tuesday when he arrived to attend tonight's winter baseball dinner in St. Paul.

"He's proved he can hit. We've got an overabundance of power, and Oliva is a singles hitter. He'll be on base quite a lot. I'd like to see him as a lead-off batter."

Rams Fail Late In 57-50 Defeat

South Side came up with its best balanced scoring attack of the season but weakened in the final period to drop a 57-50 decision at Peters Twp. Tuesday night.

Peters Twp. owned a 28-26 lead and were on top 40-37 after three periods. South Side kept pace for more than three quarters only to falter in the late stages.

The contest saw four South Side starters hitting in the double figures. Dave Ashcroft led the way with 12 but Bill Powell dropped in 11, while Dawson Fraser and Mickey Dawson had 10 each.

Al Brobere of Peters Twp. led all scorers with 20.

Peters Twp. won the reserve contest, 44-25.

Nick Skorich Dismissed

Kuharich, Hickey, Brown Mentioned For Eagle Job

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Joe Kuharich, Red Hickey and Paul Brown, three former National Football League coaches, were being mentioned prominently today for the head coaching job of the Philadelphia Eagles.

Jerry Wolman, Washington multimillionaire announced the release of Coach Nick Skorich Tuesday as he officially took over the club following approval by the league of his purchase of the team for $5,505,000 last month.

Wolman told a news conference he already had contacted Kuharich, Brown and a third possible successor whom he declined to identify by name, saying only he was a former NFL head coach not now coaching. The speculation was that the third coach was Hickey, former head coach of the San Francisco 49ers.

Wolman insisted, however, that the field is wide open, and that he would talk to all candidates. He said he wouldn't make a decision until sometime during or after the NFL's annual meeting at Miami next Tuesday since he planned to seek advice from other league owners and officials.

He said he also plans to discuss the coaching job with Vince McNally, whom he retained as general manager. McNally reportedly gave Wolman a list of several other experienced coaches who are available.

Ship 7 Edges For Explorer League

Ship 7, Explorer Scouts of St. Aloysius Catholic Church, opened the Explorer basketball tournament with a 52-47 victory over Post 21 of Orchard Grove Methodist Tuesday night.

Dale Mosser led the winners with 13 points, while Pinkerton collected 15 for Post 21.

Explorer scouts from the district are competing in the tournament at the St. Aloysius gym. Next game Tuesday night at 7 pits Post 12 against Post 59.

Koufax Hopes Pride Will Keep Him On Top

BOSTON (AP) — Sandy Koufax says he reached the pitching heights when he lost some of his stuff and gained more knowledge. And he hopes pride will help him stay on top.

The 28-year-old Los Angeles Dodger southpaw won The Associated Press Award as Male Athlete of the Year, was named the National League's Most Valuable Player and collected endless other honors in the wake of the 1963 season.

We don't have many big innings. "I don't know how I acquired control. All I know is that I never used to know where a pitch was going to end up when I fired and now I do. That's about the only difference between winning and losing."

Koufax was asked what keeps a pitcher on top once he gets there.

"I think it is, to a great extent, a matter of personal pride. Why has Warren Spahn gone on winning the way he has? First, it's his beautiful smooth pitching delivery. But also it's his pitcher's pride.

He won 25 regular season games and pitched two of the victories in the four-game World Series sweep of the New York Yankees.

"I don't think my stuff is as good as it used to be," Koufax said Tuesday night while in town to receive an award from the B'nai B'rith Sports Lodge of Boston.

"I'm a better pitcher than I used to be mostly because I have better control and know more about pitching.

"It's not true that all I have to do is get my fast ball and good curve over the plate. The only time I can afford simply to fire the ball through the strike zone anywhere is when my team is several runs ahead, and with the Dodgers that isn't often. Our team relies on speed and tight defense.

"Spahn has another important asset. He's resourceful and thoughtful and has the ability to appraise himself. When his fast ball lost some of its steam, he was resourceful enough to develop another pitch.

"For that matter, that's what a pitcher does in a ball game. He often doesn't know what his best pitch is — that particular day — until the hitters 'inform' him."

Lema Leads Pro Golfers Into Frisco

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Crosby by tournament winner Tony Lema heads the pro golfing brigade into the $50,000 Lucky International Open Thursday at the course he played as a teenager half his lifetime ago.

The 29-year-old from San Leandro, across San Francisco Bay, first showed up at Harding as a kid of 15 wearing tennis shoes to play in the city amateur tournament.

Now he returns as one of the top money winners on the PGA circuit. He tied for second 10 days ago in the San Diego Open and won by three strokes in the storm-whipped Crosby at Pebble Beach last Sunday.

Lema collected $69,670.23 in tournament winnings last year and has amassed $12,100 in prizes the first three weeks in 1964. Most of the big names, including Arnold Palmer, Jack Nicklaus and U.S. Open champion, Julius Boros, fire in the Lucky and its pro-amateur prelude today.

Veteran Jack Burke, Jr., of Kiamesha Lake, N.Y., won the top prize last year with a 276 total on rounds of 70-67-70-67 over the 6722-yard, par 71 municipal course. He left town $9,000 richer. Don January took second place at 279, faltering on the final nine holes.

Westgate Eighth Grade Registers Sixth Victory

Westgate's eighth grade rolled to its sixth win in seven outings with a 43-18 decision over Wellsville Monday at Westgate.

Bob McKinnon paced the Wildcats' attack with 12 points while Rex Campbell and Mike Jackson added seven each. Hood's eight markers topped Wellsville.

Westgate plays at Beaver Local Thursday and at East Palestine Friday.

Cardenas And Smith Sign Reds' Contracts

CINCINNATI (AP) — Shortstop Leo Cardenas and catcher Hal Smith were among five players to sign 1964 contracts with the Cincinnati Reds Tuesday. Cardenas batted .235 last season. Smith was picked up as a free agent.

Others signed were southpaw pitcher John Flavin, shortstop Tommy Helms and catcher Larry Himes.

3 Top TV Networks Bid For NFL Games Friday

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Quietly and efficiently three sealed envelopes will be placed Friday morning on the desk of Pete Rozelle, National Football League commissioner.

In each will be an unimposing slip of paper—each worth in the neighborhood of $15 million.

That's the area in which the three major networks are expected to present bids for television's hottest property — the NFL games—when a new two-year contract is put on the open market.

And, looking over everyone's shoulder will be the American Football League.

The entire bidding operation is a sheer matter of guesswork. Only one bid is made—and the highest wins. There is no second chance. Thus far, in bidding for football programs, the National Broadcasting Co. has had the best swami.

NBC outbid the Columbia Broadcasting System and the American Broadcasting Co. for the two-year rights to the college games, collecting that plum with a $13,044,000 bid—or $6,520,000 a year. CBS previously had the rights.

NBC also proved successful Monday in scoring a coup against ABC by taking the Orange Bowl away from that network. That provides NBC with the opportunity to telecast a unique tripleheader New Year's Day, with the Sugar, Rose and now the Orange Bowl games.

ABC still has a one-year option for the AFL rights—at a figure of about $2,350,000 for the single season under a contract signed in 1960. If ABC were to bid and win the NFL rights, the network likely would not exercise its option to retain the AFL program.

That would throw open the AFL bidding to an open market of NBC and CBS and presumably bring a bigger price to the young pro league.

The three networks will be bidding on the rights to all regular season NFL games. The rights to the championship game, which NBC won with a $926,000 bid for 1963, will be up for separate bidding in March.

Royals Tied In Wins But Losses Hurt

By The Associated Press
The Cincinnati Royals are fattening up in Column One, but Column Two apparently has them beaten.

The Royals tied the Eastern Division leading Boston Celtics with the most victories in the National Basketball Association by walloping the New York Knickerbockers 139-124 Tuesday night for their 32nd victory.

The 32 victories represent Column One in the NBA standings. Column Two, the loss column, shows the Royals with 17 losses — seven more than the Celtics, who were beaten by St. Louis 116-114 on Zelmo Beaty's jump shot with 14 seconds remaining.

The Royals still are 3½ games behind the Celtics.

In other games, Terry Dischinger's interception preserved Baltimore's 124-121 victory over Philadelphia and San Francisco blew an early 20-point lead and then came back to defeat Detroit 100-88.

The Royals brought their record to 7-1 against the Knicks behind a three-man attack led by Oscar Robertson, 31 points, Jack Twyman, 21, and Jerry Lucas, 20 and five stitches. The stitches were required to close a cut chin suffered in the first quarter.

The Celtics trailed 114-106 with 3:40 left but baskets by Sam Jones, John Havlicek, Bill Russell and foul shots by Russell and K. C. Jones tied it. Beaty then ruined the comeback. Beaty wound up with 11 points. Bob Pettit led the Hawks with 29

Team One Gains 2nd Victory In Y-Member Loop

Team One picked up its second straight victory to pace the YMCA-Member League Tuesday night.

Frank Kenney's 19 points led Team One to a 59-51 victory over Team Three. Jerry Murawski dropped in 19 markers for the losers.

Team Four won its first start by dropping Team Two, 71-43. Gary Weekley with 25 points and Jim Cunningham's 20 provided the one-two punch for the winners. Joe Burke paced Team Two with 19 markers.

Gary Collins Named Browns 'Man Of Year'

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Cleveland Touchdown Club named flanker Gary Collins, the Cleveland Browns' "man of the year" for 1963 Tuesday night.

He will be honored along with Roger Staubach of Navy, the national collegiate "player of the year," at the annual banquet here Feb. 13. Fullback Jim Koonce has become the 20th Chicago Cub to sign for 1964.

Fluoridation Of Water Gets PTA Support

A proposal for fluoridating the city water supply was endorsed unanimously by the City Federation of Parent - Teacher Organizations Monday night following a talk by Dr. Arthur A. Turner at Westgate School.

The federation also urged school parent - teacher groups to take similar action.

The importance of the program was stressed by Dr. Turner, who said "fluoridation is the best method of reaching the most people." By delaying the program, children are being deprived of important benefits, the dentist said, pointing out that between 90 and 95 per cent of tooth decay begins between 5 and 18 years of age.

By fluoridating the water and developing good dental habits, the percentage can be reduced considerably.

He also discussed a test program to be held in the third grades from Feb. 2-8.

Supt. Paul H. Blair gave a brief report on the mental health clinic held several months ago. Tom Doland, president, presided.

Next meeting will be Feb. 10.

Firemen's Local Re-Elects Dray

Fireman Russell Dray was re-elected president of Local 24, International Association of Fire Fighters, at the meeting Monday night at Central Station.

Clarence Snediker was elected vice president and three-year trustee. James Walker returned as secretary - treasurer and Ralph Chapman as guard.

Holdover trustees are Edwin Greenwood, who has two years to serve, and John W. Taylor with one to serve.

Firemen also continued a discussion on the possibility of establishing a city employees' credit union. The local originated the idea and has contacted other city workers about participation.

Weirton Water Rate Boost's Up To State

WEIRTON — City Council has passed, by a vote of 6-to-1, an ordinance increasing water rates by 26 per cent to finance a $2,843,185 water improvement program.

Water rates, which now average about $12.50 quarterly to householders, will go up March 31 if the State Public Service Commission concurs in the increase. A hearing is set for Jan. 30 in Charleston.

The rate increase was voted Monday night to raise funds to match a federal grant of $1,376,000 for water improvements under the Accelerated Public Works Program, and to retire a loan of $745,000 down to start the new system.

The program calls for new water mains, a new filtration plant drawing on ground water, rather than from the Ohio River more fire hydrants and other facilities improvements.

Wreck Injuries Fatal

CINCINNATI (AP) — Injuries suffered Jan. 3 in a two-car accident in Clermont County claimed the life Tuesday of George Stevens, 60, of Walthamville.

Dear friends,

We thank the people of our community for the consideration they give to funeral processions.

It is generally understood that cars should not pass through a procession.

When approaching a funeral procession from the opposite direction, it is respectful to reduce speed but do not stop (unless so directed), as the cars behind might collide.

Respectfully,

A HAPPY MARRIAGE

Even to a stranger it's obvious that the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Steve Ulizio has been a happy and successful one. Last December they celebrated their Golden Anniversary surrounded by their 5 children, 20 grandchildren and 3 great grandchildren. Retired from Crucible 9 years ago, Mr. Ulizio and Crucible started together in Midland in 1911. He worked in the Blooming mill for 44 years and now has 4 sons who are company employees.

A similarly happy marriage has been that of the greater Midland area community and area industry. Since apple orchards gave way to blast furnaces, both community and industry have prospered. Their success comes from an interdependence and a common goal . . . a healthy economy and subsequent good way of life for all.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

DEAR HELOISE: Recently a woman wrote to you about taking a newspaper and rolling it into a "rolling pin," wrapping a bath towel around it and placing it in front of her door to keep draft out.

I thought this was wonderful, but we have improved upon it! We now use these for not only the front door but all doors including the basement.

Here's what we did: We took one old bath towel and cut it in 9-inch strips, . . . lengthwise. We made "tubes" from these strips of bath towel by stitching them on our sewing machine.

We took one section of newspaper and rolled it as it is folded, . . . making a tube of paper.

We stuffed the rolled pieces of paper into our terry cloth "tubes," and took rubber bands and clasped the ends with them!

ONE COULD machine-stitch the tubes or sew by hand.

Result: Beautiful tubes that can be kicked, thrown or pushed in front of any door after it is opened or closed. Not only does it keep the heat in and the cold out—we believe it will keep the cold air in and the hot air out when we have air conditioning on!

These covers or tubes can be made from bathtowels, or old bath mats and if you are really splurging, . . . you can use scraps of velvet or corduroy and tie with a ribbon! And those who have old-fashioned homes could even knit or crochet beautiful tubes.

They sure sold at our church bazaar!

SELMA SCOTTEN.

DEAR HELOISE: My wet mop has a removable "head."

I insert a piece of nylon net with my mop when I attack it to the head.

When I wash the kitchen and bathroom floors you should see what a difference it makes! Even a heel scuff mark comes off easily.

MRS. PETERSON.

LETTER OF LAUGHTER

DEAR HELOISE: I had been wondering how to preserve every copy of your "Hints from Heloise." At last I have found the answer.

I am papering the plywood walls in my basement game room with them. I put one here and one there on the walls and eventually will fill up the whole space.

To preserve this printed advice I sprayed the paper with a clear lacquer and they may then be wiped with a damp cloth.

LORENE MARSHALL.

DEAR HELOISE: In answer to the question of how to get the odors out of foam rubber mattresses and pillows: I used plastic covers—with zippers—to cover all my pillows and mattresses and now cannot smell any more odor.

If one does not like the feel of the plastic cover, quilted cotton mattress pads may be used over the plastic covers.

Solved our problem completely.

MRS. HALLIE DUFFIELD.

DEAR HELOISE: I buy curry rice and all of these other highly seasoned kinds of rice in plastic sacks at my grocery store but when I bring them home they smell up my cupboards no end.

I love these quick cooking rice but would like to know what to do so that my kitchen cupboard doesn't smell to high heaven.

Help!

GOURMET.

DEAR GOURMET: I suggest that when you buy a bag of any of these highly-seasoned rice that you put them in a fruit jar and cap the lid tightly!

This is the only way I have found to keep the spices from smelling up my kitchen and cupboards!

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: I use my old nylon hose to tie or stake dahlias, gladiolas, etc. The hose are soft and do not cut into the stalks.

MARUINE SMITH.

March Of Dimes Funds Help Rehabilitate Victim Of Polio

A 17-year-old East End girl, stricken with polio nine years ago, is living proof that some of the dollars East Liverpool contributes every year to the March of Dimes help rehabilitate victims of the crippling disease.

Norma Ice, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Ice of Valley Ave., learned to live better with her handicap after two months of treatment and therapy last year at the Warm Springs (Ga.) Foundation. Her stay there was financed out of March of Dimes funds as well as by private insurance, her parents said.

Norma still walks with crutches and braces and also uses a wheelchair to get about, but her morale and outlook on life were improved by the trip to Warm Springs, her mother said.

Norma was stricken in 1955, when she was 8. The disease hit hardest at her legs and back. She now attends eighth grade at East Junior High School, making the trip each way by taxi.

In the treatment and training at Warm Springs, she was taught to walk up and down stairs — although with difficulty — how to get in and out of an auto and many other movements that the unaffected take for granted.

"Her morale was low and she was discouraged before she went to Warm Springs," Mrs. Ice said. "Now her attitude has improved, thanks to the treatment and training, and she has a better outlook on life."

Mrs. Ice said March of Dimes money provided about 25 per cent of the cost of the trip to Warm Springs, while private insurance policies paid the balance. Norma went to the world-famous treatment center last June 11 and returned home on Aug. 16.

Warm Springs jumped into national prominence in the 1930's because of frequent trips there by the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt, a polio victim.

Know Them And Save

Follow The Rules In Filing Of Tax

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press Writer
You may save on your 1963 income tax return by understanding the rules that apply to Third In A Series

people figuring their own tax and the rules on husbands and wives, including their exemptions.

If your income was $5,000 or more you must figure your tax.
You will find the tax rate which fits you in one of the schedules in the instruction sheet sent taxpayers by the Internal Revenue Service.

People with under $5,000 income, without figuring, can find their tax in a table also contained in the instruction sheet.
They can also figure their own if for some reason, like big deductions, they save by it.

The rules on the three tax rate schedules:

Single persons and married couples filing separately must use schedule No. 1, which has the highest tax rate.

Married people filing a joint return, and certain widows and widowers use schedule No. 2, which has the lowest tax rate.

Unmarried or legally separated people who qualify as "head of household" use schedule No.
3, which provides a lower tax than No. 1 but higher than
No. 2.

Some rules on husbands and wives:

A husband and wife must both sign a return for it to be joint.
A wife with $600 of income must, like anyone else with that much income, file a return, separately or jointly with her husband.

Most couples save by filing jointly because they can use schedule No. 2 with its lowest tax rate. In some special cases they save by separate returns, even though they have to use schedule No. 1, with its highest rate. If in doubt, figure your tax both ways.

Exemptions: $600 for yourself when you file a return and are under 65; $1,200 if you are over 65; an additional $600 if you're blind at any age. You get the same exemptions for your wife if she fits the rules.

If you're under 65 and had a taxable income of $600 or more you must file a return. If you're over 65 you don't have to file unless your income was $1,200 or more. The same goes for your wife.

When a husband and wife file jointly, each claims a $600 exemption on that joint return. If you and your wife file separately, you each claim your own $600 exemption on your separate returns.

When you file separately, both must accept the standard deduction without itemizing or, if one itemizes, then both must itemize and use Form 1040.

A single person or a couple filing jointly are allowed a standard deduction of 10 per cent of their income up to a limit of $1,000 for nonbusiness expenses.

This doesn't apply for married couples filing separately. In that case on their separate returns each can take the standard deduction of 10 per cent of income up to a limit of $500.

A wife without income doesn't have to file jointly with her husband or at all. The husband can file his own return and, in addition to his own $600 exemption, claim $600 for his wife. But he must use schedule No. 1.

If a no-income wife files jointly with her husband, each claims a $600 exemption on that joint return. And then both use schedule No. 2 with its lowest tax rate.

A wife with taxable income under $600 does not have to file a return. But now a special rule comes into force:

If a wife had any income at all, even though under $600, you can't claim a $600 exemption for her unless she files jointly with you. If she does, you use schedule No. 2. If she doesn't then you, filing separately, must use
Schedule No. 1.

If she had under $600 income but files jointly with you, each of you must report your individual income but you can each claim a $600 exemption and use
schedule No. 2.

Suppose a married couple file separate returns in 1962 and 1963 but now realize it cost them more than if they had filed jointly. They can correct the mistake by filing an amended joint return for those two years.

You were considered married for all of 1963 if you got married as late as Dec. 31, 1963.
You were considered divorced for all of 1963 if you were divorced as late as Dec. 31, 1963.

You cannot claim an exemption for your divorced wife even though you paid more than half her support in 1963.

Rules on widows and widowers:

If your wife or husband died in 1963—and you did not remarry—in general you can claim a $600 exemption for her or him on your return—filed as a joint return—and use schedule No. 2.
If she had income you must report it on your return.

You can also use schedule
No. 2—even though your wife or husband died in 1962 or 1961—
if you fit these requirements:

You must have been entitled to file a joint return with her for the year of her death; you have not married; you have a child or stepchild who qualifies as your dependent; and you furnish over half the cost of your home which is the principal residence of your child or step-child.

If these conditions fit you, you can use schedule No. 2, listing your own income, exemptions and deductions. But you cannot claim an exemption for your deceased wife.

Rules on head of household:
You can use schedule No. 3 if you fit these requirements:

You were unmarried or legally separated at the end of 1963 or were married by the end of 1963 to someone who for part of the year was a nonresident alien;
you must have furnished over half the cost of your home which was the main residence for the year of yourself and your unmarried child, stepchild or grandchild, even though not a dependent of yours, or of any other relative you can claim as a dependent; or, if you paid more than half the cost of maintaining a home for your mother or father, if either can qualify as your dependent.

But you cannot claim you maintained a home for a parent if you were paying for him or her in a home for the aged.

CINCINNATI (AP) — Singer Marian Spelman, who performs almost daily on the Ruth Lyons television show, won a divorce Tuesday from John William Spelman, whom she charged with gross neglect.

Traffic

Owens' car came up behind him at a high rate of speed, swerving from side to side. Owens' car hit the Allison auto in the rear, swerved several more times and then overturned in a ditch off the northbound lane.

Passengers in the Owens car were Lawrence Owens, 48, of New Cumberland R. D. 2 and Birdie Hawkenberry, 142 W. 6th St.

Patrolman Howard Bosworth reconstructed details of the mishap from physical evidence at the scene. He said the highway was "very icy" and driving conditions were "hazardous" at the time.

He said Owens was driving north on Dresden at high speed when his car left the street 258 feet north of the junction of Dresden Ave. and Trentvale St. The car traveled on the north berm for 20 feet, then swerved into the southbound lane and back into the northbound lane, he said. Then the car went onto the berm again, flipped into a ditch on the east side of the street and finally came to a halt right side up 56 feet from the street near a used car lot, he said.

Allison told police Owens' auto struck the Salem car in the rear when it swerved back into the northbound lane.

The collision damaged the front, top, both sides and the rear window of the Hancock County auto, which is owned by Bertha Mink, 219 Grant St., Newell, police said.

There was damage to the rear bumper, trunk, transmission and steering mechanism of the Salem man's car, police said.

Owens waived extradition from West Virginia and was brought to court here about 9 this morning from the Chester Jail.

Shortly before he was arraigned before Judge Samuel M. Chertoff, a third charge was filed, accusing him of driving without an operator's permit.

Owens pleaded guilty to all three counts.

He was sentenced to 30 days in County Jail on the charge of leaving the scene of an accident and given a concurrent 10-day term on the charge of driving without a license. He was fined $50 and costs in the reckless driving charge.

The court also ordered him to pay the costs in the two cases in which jail sentences were imposed.

Questioned by the court, Owens said he has been driving seven years, but never had an operator's license.

Judge Chertoff told Owens his actions were "despicable" in "running away" from the crash scene.

Waterford Area Bar Receives Suspension

The State Liquor Control Board at Columbus said today it has decreed a 14-day suspension in the permits of the Casa Loma on State Route 14 near New Waterford on a charge of allowing consumption of intoxicating liquor on the premises by a minor on Aug. 9.

The board said the suspension will begin at noon Feb. 6 and end at noon Feb. 20. The bar's operator was identified as Clyde Alexander.

The board said its counsel elected to dismiss two charges and proceed on the third. The two other charges concerned furnishing intoxicating liquor to a minor and allowing its consumption by a minor on the same date.

Out Of The Air

By RAL HUMPHREY

Chester's Understudy Awaits 'Big Moment'

Nearly every TV producer in Hollywood has told Burt Reynolds that "big things" are about to happen to him. What Burt can't figure out is the time schedule. The biggest thing happening to Burt so far is Jim Arness, whose 6-foot-7 frame towers over him in "Gunsmoke" almost every Saturday (10 p.m., Channel 9). In case you haven't seen him, Burt is Quint Asper, the half-breed village blacksmith. He was brought into the series last season when Dennis Weaver was leaving his Chester role.

Hal Humphrey

Dennis is quitting for the third time this season, and it is said that if he quit one more time he will own CBS, because each time he comes back for more money.

Back to Burt's problem. He was brought out to Hollywood five years ago by Lew Wasserman, top man at the MCA agency, and the first one to produce the "big things" for him.

"My first assignment," says Burt, "was playing the dumb-dumb whistle blower for Darren McGavin on 'Riverboat.' After a few weeks I told MCA and Review Productions that I wanted out."

The producer of "Riverboat" thought Burt was just playing the temperamental actor.

"What do you want—a refrigerator in your dressing room?" he asked Burt.

When Burt explained he couldn't stand the role or McGavin, and just wanted out, no one believed him. Finally he stormed into the executive producer's office and said he was going to put on a frogman suit and blow up the boat in "Riverboat" if he wasn't let out of his contract.

From Riverboat Burt went into a syndicated TV series called "Pony Express." I think they filmed it with a flashlight and a box camera, but I learned more about my craft in that and other syndicated series than I did by standing around looking virile in "Riverboat," says Burt.

When Burt joined the "Gunsmoke" cast, he was looked on by the others as an interloper. Kitty, Doc, Matt and Chester had been together for seven years, so naturally they had developed a highly proprietary air over anything happening their Dodge City.

"One day Milburn Stone (Doc) came up to me and said, 'Burt, you're a darn good actor,' and then I felt I belonged," recalls Burt.

Bringing Up A Family

Neat Writing Can Be Developed

If you saw a collection of regularly written papers by children from fourth to sixth grade of almost any school, undoubtedly among them would be some papers untidy and not very legible. Usually the girls' papers would be neater than the boys'. If you found among these Dr. Garry Meyers papers one by your son, you might be discouraged at its untidiness. Already his teacher may have written or talked to you of his poor handwriting. You may wish he had learned to write better at school.

Yet you can do something about it at home. Induce this child to write daily a few lines on lined paper under a good model—line of script. Urge him to write slowly and carefully. Make this a daily practice.

WHEN HE MUST prepare at home written work for school, emphasize neatness. It might help if you marked off with faint pencil—lines the margin limits. If he is doing number work, you might mark off for him with faint lines the blocks in which he could write the numbers. Show him how to write these numbers so as to be in line up and down.

If he writes some digits routinely, guide him at practice in making them better. As he makes them better, stamp an envelope to me in care of The Review.

Some children very poor at handwriting are high-strung and excitable, called "nervous" by their parents. They may improve if calmed down. A medical check may be desirable. My bulletins, "Your Child and His Handwriting," and "The Nervous Child," may be had by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of The Review.

With CONSTANT vigilance and your patient guidance, you might thus help your child to improve in neatness and legibility. The main problem is to induce him to write slowly and carefully. He'll try to hurry, so you might be able to prevail on your child to put a sample of his returned written work between the leaves of an old magazine, dating each sample.

If he files a sample once a week, he could see, on later inspection, how much he had improved in neatness and legibility. I have seen some teachers interest children in doing this and with good effect.

Members of the church basketball team were guests when the Methodist Men's Fellowship met Monday night at the Central church in Wellsville. The team has won all its games this season. The Rev. Richard Maurer, pastor, spoke on the Dead Sea Scrolls.

Twenty attended Leroy Geisse, treasurer, presided in the absence of the president and vice president. A discussion was held on a tour of the Weirton Steel Co. No date was set.

Harold Driggs conducted devotions. Lunch was served. Next meeting will be Feb. 10.

Fire At Midland Mill Confined To Lean-To Crucible Steel Co. officials said that the loss in Monday's fire at the Midland Works was confined to a small lean-to in the old Blooming Mill boiler house. They said no loss will result in the blaze, caused by an overheated "salamander" heater, since the lean-to was scheduled for razing in the near future. There were no injuries.

Words For Spellers

Here is another list of practice words for pupils who will be taking part in the various spelling bees throughout Columbiana County. Study the words, learn what they mean and learn to spell them. Watch for more words later in The Review.

Mental Figure Slays Deputy

LORAIN, Ohio (AP)—Shouting "I'm not going back," a 35-year-old mental patient Tuesday shot and killed the sheriff's deputy who came to take him to a state mental hospital.

The mental patient, Elbert Rush of Sheffield Township, later was flushed from his home by tear gas and subdued.

Killed was John Palermo, 42, who had gone to Rush's home on what deputies considered a routine assignment.

Armed with a court order sending Rush to the Tiffin State Hospital, Palermo told Rush to get his coat and come along. Rush stepped inside and slammed the door.

Palermo, accompanied by auxiliary deputy Eugene Kubuske, kicked open the door. Rush was inside with a revolver.

Kubuske dodged behind a snowbank for cover and saw Palermo stagger out and fall to the ground. Rush came to the door then and fired wildly, emptying the revolver.

Veteran Members Are Honored By D. Of A.

Members with long affiliation and several district officers are shown at the 72nd anniversary dinner party of Pride of the Valley Council 4 Daughters of America, Monday night at the Travelers Hotel.

42 years; Mrs. Gertrude Poe, 54 years; Mrs. Mary Matthews, 50 years; Mrs. Olive White of Toronto, district deputy; Mrs. Stella Wright, lodge deputy; Mrs. Goldie Hawksworth, past state associate councilor, and Mrs. Ola Weaver, present councilor, 47 years.

Covers were arranged for 25 at the table decorated with a centerpiece of driftwood and spring flowers, made by Mrs. Gertrude McCall. Favors were program booklets.

The committee was comprised of Mrs. Jessie Bowen, Mrs. Anna Shingler and Mrs. Anna Calhoun.

Gifts were presented Mrs. Mary Wines, retiring councilor; Mrs. Calhoun, retiring associate councilor; Mrs. Hawksworth, Mrs. White and Mrs. Wright.

Winners at cards were Mrs. Myra Walters and Mrs. White. Mrs. Margaret Allison won the table centerpiece.

Welfare Food Hits 262 Tons

LISBON — Over 262 tons of surplus food was distributed in 1963 in Columbiana County's surplus food program, Welfare Director Robert Bycroft reported.

The total cost for the food and distribution was $14,332.06 to 35,159 persons. A total of 40,485 persons were certified but only 86.8 per cent accepted the food.

A total of 525,504 pounds of 12 items was distributed during the year at the five points—East Liverpool Central Fire Station; Wellsville Jaycee building, Salem City building, East Palestine City building and the Lisbon warehouse. A breakdown of items included:

64,422 pounds of powdered milk, 22,266 of rice, 108,740 of flour, 40,610 of cornmeal, 34,182 of rolled wheat, 20,236 of lard, 27,567 of butter, 60,570 of beans, 68,875 of canned meat, 14,702 of peanut butter, 41,347 of cheese and 11,987 of shortening.

Bycroft did not estimate the total cost if the county had to go out and buy it at present prices. But as an example 37,567 pounds of butter at a low figure of 50 cents per pound would have cost $18,783, or much more than the total yearly cost.

Criminal Action Seen Unlikely In Voting Probe

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—No criminal action is likely on the basis of information obtained thus far in a probe of voting irregularities in Lorain's 5th Ward, Secretary of State Ted W. Brown says.

Brown, who will conduct a hearing on the probe in Lorain next Tuesday, said indications are that most of the cases involve persons who lived in the ward previously and returned to cast ballots in the election last Nov. 5.

Witnesses at the hearing, to be held in the Lorain branch of the Board of Elections' Office, will include polling place workers who accepted ballots in question.

Lisbon Patrol Head Appeals For More Highway Safety

An appeal for district motorists to "do more in '64" for highway safety was made today by Sgt. R. J. Rizzo of the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon.

He declared it is not enough to talk highway safety—every driver and pedestrian should take an active part in making the roads safe.

He pointed out the number of traffic deaths in the nation in 1963 were the highest ever recorded.

"We are now in the midst of hazardous winter driving conditions and this is the time to take an active part in traffic safety and help to reverse the present upward trend of traffic fatalities," Sgt. Rizzo said.

The sergeant made six suggestions to help drivers realize their responsibilities in this matter of life or death:

1. Keep your car in top mechanical condition during the hazardous months ahead.
2. Adjust your driving to inclement weather and other difficult driving conditions.
3. Be especially alert for pedestrians (pedestrian fatalities accounted for many traffic deaths in Ohio during the recent holiday period.)
4. When you are the pedestrian—stay alert to stay alive.

5. Actively promote traffic safety in your civic clubs, social organizations and churches.
6. Encourage traffic safety at home and among friends by advocating safe driving habits and reminding those who violate traffic laws of their responsibilities toward their families and society in general.

Sgt. Rizzo said that enforcement agencies will be making every effort to assist motorists and pedestrians in the perilous winter months. "However, a reversal in the present trend of highway slaughter can be accomplished only by the active participation of all our citizens," he said.

6 Chairmen Selected For Chester Colt Fete

Tentative date for the event is March 21 at the junior high school gym.

The chairmen are Mrs. Ann Ludovici, entertainment; Mrs. Faye Haight, awards; Mrs. June Lee, refreshments; Mrs. Gladys Pethel and Mrs. Frank Blankenship, decorations, and Mrs. S. L. Miller, reservations. Officers will be elected Feb. 11.

Traffic Injuries Fatal

MASSILLON, Ohio (AP)—Dale Kemp, 42, of Brewster, injured Sunday in a two-car collision on a Massillon street, died Tuesday.

Rowan Gets USIA Post; Murrow Quits

WASHINGTON — Edward R. Murrow resigned Tuesday as director of the U.S. Information Agency and is being replaced by Carl Rowan, who will become the highest-ranking Negro in the government.

President Johnson announced Murrow's resignation, which Murrow said was tendered because of the need for a long convalescence from lung cancer surgery. Johnson said he accepted the resignation "with the greatest reluctance."

Rowan, now ambassador to Finland, is a former newspaperman who was deputy assistant secretary of state for public affairs before going to Finland.

As USIA director, Rowan will become the first Negro ever to sit in on meetings of the National Security Council. It is accepted practice for the USIA chief to attend the council sessions.

Rowan, 38, a Tennessee native, also will sit in on Cabinet meetings.

Murrow, who signed his resignation Dec. 19, suggested it would not be fair to Johnson to leave the USIA without an on-the-job director during the convalescence.

Murrow, veteran radio and television broadcaster, took the $21,000 a-year USIA post at the start of the Kennedy administration.

Audit Unit Appointed For Chester Kiwanis

James Elliott, William Werkheiser and Paul Beggs were appointed as a Chester Kiwanis Club auditing committee by the Rev. Donald Vogel, president, at a meeting Tuesday night at the City Hall.

R. M. McFarland spoke on the history of Kiwanis International, a service group formed in 1916. He said there are seven active members of the original 37 of the Chester club, which was organized in 1945.

There are now 5,177 clubs and 259,904 members in the United States, Canada, Mexico and six European nations.

Twenty-five attended the meeting.

Junior Editors Quiz on

QUESTION: How was the speed of light discovered?

ANSWER: The speed of light, 186,282 miles per second, is so fantastically fast that it's impossible to conceive of it, even less draw it--so our artist has symbolized it by a figure based on Mercury, the fleetfooted messenger of the Greek gods, flaming across the night sky. This tremendous speed was first calculated, roughly, by a Danish astronomer, Oleas Roemer, in 1675. He had been studying the planet Jupiter and noticed that one of his planet's moons was eclipsed by it 16 minutes later when Jupiter, in its regular orbit, was farther away from the earth than when closest to the earth. Roemer thought this was because the light had to go a greater distance and since he knew the distances between the earth and Jupiter he was able to calculate that the light moved at 192,000 miles a second. Later, scientists checked this by sending light flashes from rotating mirrors over a long distance and back, then checking how far the mirrors had revolved. Professor Michelson, in 1927, arrived at a figure of 186,284 miles a second, but later experiments cut 2 miles from this figure.

FOR YOU TO DO: Think of a flash of light leaping 186,282 miles a second. Then think of the vast distance it must go in a minute, an hour, a day, a year! Distances in space are measured in light-years--the distance light goes in one year, being about 6 million million miles.

Scott Watson of Travis A. F. B., Calif., wins today's grand prize of a 20-volume set of the World Book Encyclopedia for this question. Mail yours on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of The Review and you too may win a set.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I'm enraged at that letter from the husband who signed himself, "Color Me Gone."

Did it ever occur to him that many a wife would like to be colored "Gone," too, especially after the big lummox has colored her black and blue a few times? But it's not so easy for a woman to pick up and leave.

I address these remarks to the house who criticized his wife for allowing herself to get fat and "uninteresting." When did he last hold her coat or open a car door for her? When did he last tell her she looked lovely, or that the dinner was especially good?

And the heel says if he wants more than a peck on the cheek she calls him a sex maniac. How does he treat her when they're alone? Does he use tender words and make her feel feminine and special? Does he convey the notion that he is concerned with HER pleasure and satisfaction?

I'll bet this Lover Boy saves his charm, his compliments and his company manners for some doll who isn't fit to shine his wives shoes.

It's tough to be middle-aged, Ann. Our children need us less and less. We begin to feel useless. Our job is almost finished and we know it. If we don't have a husband who makes us feel loved and wanted we have nothing.—COLOR ME BLUE.

Dear Blue: You have described well the fears and anxieties that haunt millions of middle-aged women.

It may surprise you to know that almost half of my readers are men. Approximately 25 million men will read your letter. I hope your husband is among them.

Lace Curtain Irish

Dear Ann: Can you settle an argument: What does "Lace Curtain Irish" mean: I am not telling which way I'm betting but a friend and I are in sharp disagreement.

Please don't tell us to look in a dictionary. We did and could find only "lace."

Thank you in advance. —FAT AND MIKE.

Dear P and M: Lace Curtain Irish are people of Irish descent who have fruit in the house when nobody is sick.

Fiance's Mother

Dear Ann: I'm engaged to marry a very fine boy in June, after we both are graduated from college. The problem is his mother.

I'm willing to go along with some of her ideas because I love her son, but enough is enough. She has asked me to have printed on the wedding invitations, "no gifts, please." Unless we do this, she says she will invite only 10 people from their side.

My mother and I never have seen this done and we are afraid we will look ridiculous. Help, please. — OLIVE.

Dear Olive: No mention of gifts should be made on an invitation of any kind. Tell her she'll have to settle for the 10.

Anonymity Preferred

Dear Ann: In a recent column you said you'd print the name of the author of "Prayer for Older People" if you knew it. This prayer often quoted by former Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York was sent to him by William E. Robinson, who in turn received it from a mother superior who wishes to remain anonymous.—N.J.E.

Dear Ann: The prayer for older people was written by my son, a Methodist minister who lives in Springfield, Ohio, and wishes to remain anonymous.—CONSTANT READER.

Dear Ann: I wrote "Prayer for Older People" in 1948. I wish to remain anonymous, however. My initials are: P. K.

Dear N. J. E., Constant Reader and P.K.: No comment.

that the traffic light was in Estell's favor.

The court ruled that the driver of the Cable auto was guilty of contributory negligence in the mishap. Cable's petition said his car was operated by his son, Elbert. Cable sought $50 and the insurance company asked judgment for $105.

In issuing his finding, Judge Chertoff commented on the fact the case dated back almost 10 years. The judge said that at least 10 times in the four years he has been on the bench the case was assigned for trial, but circumstances always intervened.

Everett Lantz is in his 27th season as coach of the Wyoming wrestling team.

Defendant Wins Court's Ruling In Car Crash Case

Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff handed down a ruling for the defendant Tuesday afternoon in an old civil action in which Jesse A. Estell of 7th Ave., LaCrosse, was sued for $155 by H. C. Cable of Butler, Tenn., and the Delta Insurance Co. of Knoxville, Tenn.

The action arose out of a two-car crash March 21, 1954, at a Salem intersection. Witnesses for both the plaintiff and the defendant gave contradictory evidence on the color of a traffic light at the intersection at the time of the crash. However, a disinterested witness testified
